MINISTERS ARGUE DRAFT DEFIANCE

Panelist Agree Churches Free To Seek Changes In Laws They Consider Immoral

The Selective Service Law should be tested on the basis of the Nuremberg trials decision that a man acquires guilt by obeying a guilty order, five Marin clergymen agreed today.

The five, representing Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths, appeared on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" to discuss "The Clergy and Draft Resistance."

One of them, retired Minister Rev. Vernon M. Brown of Redwood Presbyterian Church, Larkspur, voiced no disapproval of the draft law, but he joined the others in saying he would welcome such a test.

VIET REFUSAL?

The point was raised by a questioner who telephoned the station, "Why can't service in Vietnam be refused on the basis of prosecution in Nuremberg-type trials?"

"I think it can," responded Rev. Karel F. Botermans of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin.

"I have been hoping it would," said Rev. John O'Connor, executive director of Catholic Social Services.

ANTI-DRAFT STAND

"A test case ought to be brought on that," said Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodel Sholom. Rev. John S. Thornton of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito, joined the others in agreeing such a test would be desirable.

Of the five, only Rev. Brown took the position that no youth should be counseled to defy the draft law. But none of the five saw anything commendable in burning draft cards.

Rev. Botermans and Rev. O'Connor felt burning a draft card might be excused. The other three felt it was useless, and as Rabbi Hoffman expressed it, "one extremism opposed to another."

IMMORAL LAWS

They were unanimous on one other matter: that the church has a perfect right to attempt to change a law it considers immoral. A listener had asked whether this did not violate the separation of church and state.

The unanimity that churches have not only the right but the obligation to attempt to change bad laws was emphatic. "The church is made up of citizens," noted Rabbi Hoffman.

Rev. Botermans offered a definition of the difference between civil disobedience and crime which was endorsed by all the others. Civil disobedience, he said, is "acting against a law publicly, openly, and with knowledge of the consequences. Crime is violating a law and hoping to get away with it."

There is, however, pointed out Rabbi Hoffman, an undefined point at which civil disobedience becomes destructive to society.

In his initial presentation, Rev. Botermans read a resolution signed by 20 Unitarian-Universalist ministers in Northern California calling the Vietnam war immoral and pledging "continued support to the youth in their refusal to participate in a military system which they consider immoral."

None of the others went quite so far, although all except Rev. Brown said they would counsel youth to refuse service if they are convinced the objectors are acting truly by the dictates of their conscience. The "phony C.O.," said Rev. Botermans, can be quickly detected because he is not willing to go to prison to avoid the draft.

The program will be repeated, from a recording, at 9 p.m. tomorrow on KTIM-FM.

Carrier-Based Jets Hit Haiphong Dock

Shipyard Is U.S. Target First Time

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Navy Skyhawks bombed a previously untouched shipyard near the heart of Haiphong today while in South Vietnam U.S. planes knocked out one of the North iVetnamese mortar positions which in six attacks devastated the American base at Dak To.

The Communists mortared Dak To for the sixth time today but inflicted only slight additional damage on the central highlands base where earlier attacks destroyed two transport planes, vast ammunition stores, 150,000 gallons of aviation fuel and quantities of teargas.

Despite the loss of ammunition stockpiled for a major offensive against the 6,000 North Vietnamese who pushed into the Dak To region from nearby Cambodia, Maj. Gen. William Peers, commander of the 4th Infantry Division in the area, said "the pinch is only temporary."

FIRST RAID

Military spokesmen in Saigon, in announcing today's raid against the barge-repairing shipyard a mile from the center of Haiphong, disclosed that U.S. planes bombed the Kep and Hoa Lac MIG bases in North Vietnam yesteray. There was no word whether any MIGs were destroyed .

The shipyard located on the Song Tra Bac Canal in Haiphong is used for building and repairing barges and other small boats.

The A4 Skyhawks operating from the carrier Coral Sea flew close to but did not bomb the international shipyards in Haiphong where Soviet Russia brings in most of the materiel for the North Vietnamese war effort.

NUMBER SECRET

The number of planes in today's raid was not disclosed There was also no announcement of plane losses.

A U.S. spokesman reported in Saigon that 177 Americans were killed, 762 wounded and 28 missing in combat during the

A Cautious Report By Westmoreland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland gave the Senate Armed Services Committee today what was termed "an optimistic—cautiously optimistic"—report on the war in Vietnam.

"But he does not see any early termination of the war," Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, told newsmen.

Westmoreland spent more than an hour in closed session with the committee, and left immediately afterward for the White House, where he met at noon with President Johnson.

Informed sources predicted that meeting would bring agreement on earlier deployment of additional troops already authorized for Vietnam. These sources said Westmoreland was not asking for a bigger commitment of U.S. troops.

Russell said that while the whole tenor of Westmoreland's statement to the committee was cautiously optimistic, he never failed to make a statement about a gain without mentioning some of the difficulties encountered.

Among the difficulties cited, Russell reported, were the sanctuary the Communist forces have in Cambodia and Laos, abuse of the demilitarized zone, and "the tremendous supplies of mortars, artillery and rockets from some source."

RUSS SUPPLIES

Russell said he presumed the weapons were being supplied by the Soviet Union.

On the other hand, Russell said Westmoreland reported that while the enemy force's equipment is consistently good, their morale is deteriorating and some of their best troop units have been practically decimated.

Westmoreland flew in from Vietnam yesterday for his conferences with the President and other officials.

TALKS CONTINUE

Joining the President and Bunker at luncheon were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, director Richard Helms of the Central Intelligence Agency and special presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow.

PACIFICATION PLANS

After talking with Westmoreland today, Johnson is to meet with Robert Komer, chief of the U.S. pacification effort in South Vietnam.

Military progress by U.S. and South Vietnamese forces was reportedly behind Westmoreland's request that authorized troop levels be reached more quickly than now scheduled.

Redistricting Proposals Sent To Conference

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Senate and Assembly-passed congressional reapportionment plans were sent to a two-house conference committee today to work out a final compromise plan meeting court orders to give more equal representation to some Californians.

Hopes rose that legislators would be able to wrap up the unwanted reapportionment job by next Wednesday — the day before Thanksgiving. The special session started Nov. 6.

VERSION REJECTED

The Assembly rejected, 6-43, the Senate version of a bill drafted by Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello. This sent the matter to a conference committee of three senators and three assemblymen.

The conference committee planned to begin work, behind closed doors, this afternoon.

Fenton, chairman of the Assembly's reapportionment committee, said, "I'm hopeful that we will have a plan to present on Monday."

The Senate approved yesterday, 22-15, a plan sponsored by Democrat James Mills of San Diego. Technically, it's the same bill passed by the Assembly earlier in the week and has Fenton listed as the author.

LANGUAGE CHANGED

But the Senate completely changed the language, deleting Fenton's proposals and substituting Mills' plan instead. Fenton began a close study of the Mills proposal as soon as it passed the Senate, but could not tell how much conflict there was with his own bill.

Mills said the two versions are "basically the same bill."

The court early in October held that the state's 38 congressional districts were poorly apportioned so that some districts — in effect — had a stronger voice in the U.S. House of Representatives than others. The court said the legislature must adopt an acceptable reapportionment plan by Dec. 7 or the court would do the job itself.

Cong Deaths Delayed; Fear Of Retaliation

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese government tonight postponed the execution of three Viet Cong agents in the face of American warnings the Communists had said they would execute prisoners of war in retaliation.

The Communists are believed to hold 162 American prisoners, most of them pilots shot down in the bombing raids against North Vietnam. They also hold South Vietnamese prisoners.

The execution by firing squad of the three suspected agents would have been the first since 1965. A spokesman said the execution set for dawn tomorrow was postponed and that no new date had been set.

American officials said earlier they were "distressed" about the South Vietnamese plans and apparently they brought pressure on the government to call off the executions.

A government spokesman said Premier Nguyen Van Loc ordered the postponment "asa gesture of friendship toward the Viet Cong" and because he did not want to "inaugurate his government with bloodshed."

Span Painter Belittles Reports On Workers: Like 'A' In Sandbox

By DON BRANNING

A boss painter on Golden Gate Bridge said today that the evaluation reports, upon which the bridge management bases part of its case against two fired Negro Painters, "were like a kindergarten teacher giving Johnnie an A in sandbox, because he brought an apple to tthe teacher."

The painter, leaderman Clyde A. Laidlaw, testified at a discrimination hearing before a California Fair Employment Practices Commission that he never cared for the evaluation reports, because "there was too much room for personal feelings to enter into it."

Laidlaw gave "good" reports on all his painters, including the two fired Negroes, Jimmie Wilkins,33, of Oakland and James Haugabook, 31, of Palo Alto. The painters could be scored good, fair, or poor.

Laidlaw, who has been a painter on the bridge for 22 years and a leaderman for years was cross-examined this morning at the FEPC hearing into discrimination charges—brought by Wilkins and Haugabook—by George Bahrs, the attorney hired by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Laidlaw's face reddened when Bahrs asked him, "Do you recall saying you were the teacher and you were going to fill out the report cards and everyone would get a good grade?"

"I don't deny it," Laidlaw replied.

"Do you recall saying these evaluation reports were the stupidest things you had ever heard of?"

"I don't deny it."

Laidlaw explained to the chairman of the commission, Pierre Gherini of Santa Barbara, that he felt the report classifications of good, fair and poor were "too general" to make specific distinctions about the painters.

Other leadermen on the bridge were more critical of Haugabook and Wilkins in their reports.

The FEPC may wind up 10 days of testimony today. The commission has wide latitude for its findings, but it has no punitive power because the state's discrimination law is not a criminal statute. It may find discrimination by the bridge district and it may order the painters reinstated, with back pay or other conditions, but if the bridge management refuses to acceded to its ruling, the case would have to go to superior court.

Charles Wilson, counsel for the FEPC, said, "We expect

Boston Digging Out After Crippling Evening Blizzard

BOSTON (AP) — Sunny but frigid weather today helped Boston clear highways of cars abandoned during the heavy snowstorm yesterday which caused a massive supper-hour traffic jam in the area.

Metropolitan Boston got only 4 inches of snow but the storm was completely unexpected and motorists were caught without snow tires or chains.

Elsewhere in New England, especially Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts, up to 13 inches of snow piled up on main highways.

Six fatalities were attributed to the storm.

This morning most commuters to Boston left their cars home and jammed public transportation.

Robert Jones, a Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority bus driver, said students from area colleges, including Harvard, Radcliffe, MIT and Boston University, were pushing cars, directing traffic and bringing coffee, sandwiches and cookies to straned motorists.

"It was absolutely amazing to me," he said, "especially where they knock kids so much. These kids weren't pro or con anything. They weren't handing out literature."

He said the students apparently "were digging into their own

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson has been pronounced in excellent health by his doctor.

The White House today made public a memorandum by Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, presidential physician, saying the President's "basic health has been excellent throughout the past four years."

Johnson will have been President four years on Nov. 22.

This is the first autumn in three years that the chief executive has been free of health problems.

Half Of State Appraisers Fall Afoul Of New Tests

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Almost half of California's controversial corps of state inheritance tax appraisers will be replaced, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced today.

His statement came as he announced the results of qualifying examinations given Nov. 4 to 939 persons. They sought the 154 posts in all 58 counties which involve determining how much the state is due in inheritance taxes from the estates of dead Californians.

Marin County's two inheritance tax appraisers are Lee V. Holman of Terra Linda, a holdover appointee from the previous administration, and Ralph T. McGrath of Novato, who was appoint by Flournoy in March.

(Neither could be reached today to learn whether he had taken the test.)

Some appraisers have made more than $60,000 a year in the past. Appointment to the lucrative posts by the politically partisan controller was considered the last big patronage plum in California politics.

Flournoy told a news conference that 478 of those taking the 135-question qualifying examination flunked it, while 461 passed.

Of incumbents, 74 qualified, 58 failed to pass, 12 didn't take the test and 10 jobs are vacant.

Flournoy said that appraisers who took the test and passed it will be reappointed, except for about 15 who barely passed. Some of these may not keep their jobs, he said.

With a possible handful of exceptions, he added, all who failed the test or didn't take it will be replaced.

Flournoy's figures showed that appraisers appointed by the man he beat last November, Democrat Alan Cranston, fared worse than those he has named.

Eleven appraisers appointed before this year didn't take the

Sailors Believed Fleeing To Cuba

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese newspaper said today four crewmen from the U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid might be en route to Cuba to seek political asylum.

Sankei Shimbun, in an exclusive story, also said some Japanese hippies sheltered them for several days and helped them contact an anti-Vietnam war organization after they defected.

The organization, the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee, last Monday showed the press a filmed interview in which the sailors said they oppose U.S. policies in Vietnam and seek political asylum in a country not involved in the war.

IF McCARTHY RUNS

RFK Hints Shift In Johnson Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's hint that he might alter his announced support of President Johnson in 1968 adds new drama to the potential opposition candidacy of Minnesota Democratic Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Kennedy said yesterday that McCarthy is likely to generate some important backing if he enters presidential primaries as an outspoken opponent to Johnson's Vietnam war policies.

Asked how a McCarthy candidacy would affect his previously announced decision to support President Johnson's expected bid for re-election despite his criticism of some of the President's Vietnam policies, the New York senator said:

"I perhaps will have something to say further if Senator McCarthy announces."

IF HE WERE LBJ

Kennedy also said if he were Johnson he'd consider McCarthy's possible candidacy "very serious," and added: "I think he'll (McCarthy) receive some support around the country. I think from the people I've talked to, in California, New England, the Midwest, he'll have some support."

McCarthy wasn't immediately available for comment on Kennedy's statements. But in an earlier interview yesterday the Minnesotan said any bid he makes for the Democratic nomination would aim at giving voters a chance to exert the kind of pressure he thinks might cause Johnson to change his course in Vietnam.

NO AMBITIONS

McCarthy said personal political ambitions don't enter into the matter. Some Democratic colleagues suspect he is counting on antiwar sentiment to produce a respectable showing for him which—linked with national publicity—would make him a factor in the fight for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

McCarthy said he hasn't even though about 1972.

The Minnesota senator dismissed as furthest from his mind reports that he hopes by his venture to offer a future party leadership challenge to Kennedy.

But he does not deny the obvious—that Kennedy's resistance to being shoved into opposing Johnson next year contributed to his own nearing decision to take the plunge himself.

CITES ADLAI

McCarthy says frankly that he would hope to revive the Adlai E. Stevenson liberal strain in the party and give the John F. Kennedy people somebody to rally around next year in view of Robert Kennedy's absence from the fray.

When he persisted in putting Stevenson's name before the 1960 Democratic convention, McCarthy won the plaudits of the party liberals. But the price he paid was a subsequent frosty, arms-length relationship with the Kennedys.

He conceivably could find one of the clan, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., standing in for the President in the Massachusetts primary. This is one of four tests McCarthy may undertake, with the others in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and California.

Shirley Says She'll Back McCloskey

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — As a loyal Republican, Shirley Temple Black is pledging her support to Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey, the Korean war hero who defeated the former child film star for the Republican nomination for Congress.

McCloskey, 40, will be opposed by Democrat Roy Archibald, 47, former San Mateo mayor, in a Dec. 12 runoff for the 11th District seat vacated by the death of the late J. Arthur Younger, Republican.

"I've always supported the Republican Party and, of course, will support Mr. McCluskey," Mrs. Black declared yesterday.

KEATING NOT SURE

But Edward M. Keating, Ramparts magazine founder who ran second, said only that he was leaning to Archibald but might not vote at all.

"I don't believe in the principle of the lesser of two evils," Keating said.

McCloskey, reporting a congratualtory message from Gov Ronald Reagan, said, "I have great respect for the governor."

McCloskey polled 34.1 per cent of the 154,963 total votes cast by Republicans and Democrats in the open primary.

Archibald, the Democrat nominee, polled only 9.7 per cent.

VOTING SPLIT

The 121,259 votes for four Republican candidates accounted for 77.7 per cent of the balloting in a county where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans 117,000 to 96,000.

There were 33,704 votes for six Democratic candidates.

Archibald said he expected thousands of Democrats who voted for McCloskey Tuesday would vote for him next month.

Poverty War Survives, But Budget Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — An antipoverty bill cut by $460 million has cleared the House and both the budget-cutters and administration supporters claim a victory.

Republicans succeeded in a 221 to 190 vote in cutting the money total well below President Johnson's request but the pared-down version — with all its controversial programs intact — then sailed through 283 to 129, the biggest margin in its three-year history.

ONE MORE YEAR

As it passed the House last night after a long frequently raucous session, the bill would extend the Office of Economic Opportunity's programs for one year at an authorized spending level of $1.6 billion.

That's the amount the OEO had last year. Johnson had asked for $2.06 billion to expand the antipoverty program this year.

The Senate has already authorized $2.25 billion and a compromise agreement will now have to be worked out.

On final passage, 186 Democrats and 97 Republicans voted for the bill and 50 Democrats and 79 Republicans against it. The entire top leadership of the Republican party either voted or was paired against the bill.

SUPPORTERS HAPPY

The bill's supporters shrugged off the cut in funds as a small price to pay for keeping alive a program that at one time appeared doomed.

The coaltion of Republicans and Southern Democrats that rewrote major administration education and crime control bills earlier in the year had made a complete revision of the antipoverty program its main goal.

Respiratory Disease Clinic Held 'Success'

The newly-created respiratory disease clinic at Marin General Hospital, financed with Christmas Seal funds, has been "a total success," according to Dr. Burt Richardson, medical director of the clinic.

Richardson presented his first report on the clinic to the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association Board at the annual Christmas Seal campaign luncheon Tuesday.

The clinic, started in August, has had 10 patients, sufferers of emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma and pulmonary fibrosis, Dr. Richardson said.

The clinic is an outpatient therapy program held during evening hours at the hospital. "We conduct a two-fold therapy program, which consists of education and training in breathing exercises as well as the administration of medication and positive pressure breathing."

Patients are referred by their physicians and classes begin every three weeks.

E. Warren McGuire, association president, told the board that funds from the Christmas Seal campaign, now under way, will continue to go toward operation of the clinic.

Anyone who wants to comment on the proposal should write to the Chief, Air Traffic Branch, Federal Aviation Administration, 831 Mitten Road, Burlingame, San Mateo County, by Dec. 19.

The proposed tower line would exceed the standards, as applied to HAFB, by 39 feet, the FAA reported.

"There are many places where there could be cutbacks rather than cutting back something that takes so many years to get momentum going," he said.

WHAT DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

Mrs. Arsen Dedrick of Fairfax went out to check her garden this morning and found this giant mushroom, or toadstool, or whatchamacallit, under an orange tree. It measured five and one-half inches across and, when split open, was found to have solid "meat." Mrs. Dedrick, a professional cook at a Mill Valley restaurant but no mycologist, is wondering if she can put it on the menus. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Rafael Man To Head State Appeals Board

Morton R. Colvin of San Rafael has been appointed chairman of the State Workemen's Compensation Appeals Board, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Colvin was appointed to the board in February after serving as a referee for the board since 1962. He was an attorney with the State Alcoholic Beverage Control agency from 1960 to 1962.

A referee "trys" appeals by employers or employees over workmen's compensation awards for injuries or deaths. Appeals may then be carried further to the appeals board.

Colvin will continue to receive the $25,000 yearly salary that each of the seven board members receives when he takes over as chairman of the board on Dec. 1.

test, 48 did but failed it, and 51 qualified. Of the 34 appraisers appointed by Flournoy, one didn't take the exam, 23 passed, and 10 failed.

Flournoy campaigned last year in his upset victory over Cranston on a pledge to "take the politics out of inheritance tax appraising."

He introduced legislation this year to make the system basically a civil service type operation, but the bill died in the Senate after passing the Assembly.

Flournoy told reporters "We are not going to terminate everybody immediately" who is due for replacement.

Flournoy refused to make public the names of those who passed or failed, or their scores.

Auto Safety Check Set In Strawberry

Drivers may have their cars lights, windshield wipers and other gear checked for safety between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday and on Dec. 2 at Town and Country Village shopping center, Strawberry.

Owner Appeals To Delay Removal Of Big Dry Docks

The owner of four towering dry docks moored off Sausalito yesterday appealed in Marin Superior Court today's lower court deadline for moving the docks.

The appeal will halt county plans to move the docks if owner Delmar D. Wise of Sausalito does not tow them away, county officials said.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the county had considered contempt of court action against Wise and had discussed removal of the docks with marine towing and salvage firms.

On Oct. 17, Judge Alvin H. Goldstein of Marin Municipal Court ordered Wise to move the docks within 30 days because they encroach on underwater public lands.

Wise said today that he will move the docks in approximately five weeks to a place somewhere in the Sacramento River Delta. He said dredging to prepare the new site will take three weeks and that it would take another two weeks to pump out the dry docks and tow them to the delta.

At the new site, the high walls will be ripped off and the dry docks will be used as flat berthing docks for barges, he said.

Girl Faces Charges In Bad Check Case

Terry Jo Lynch, 19, of no known address, was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday for investigation concerning bad checks and was scheduled for a hearing today in Marin Municipal Court.

San Rafael police said they arrested the girl on suspicion of passing three worthless personal check totalling $35 and also of passing a forged stolen check in the amount of $125.

New Code For Nevada Casinos

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—The Nevada Gaming Commission has adopted 31 pages of regulations aimed at stopping criticism that casinos are skimming millions of dollars in profits.

Commission Chairman George Dickerson said the action yesterday will bring improvement in the auditing, reporting and control of revenue to assure that the state receives correct income reports from gamblers.

But Warren Bates, Nevada director for the Internal Revenue Service, said the rules were filled with defects which would prevent the state from getting a fair count.

BRIDGE

they will take it to court, if the case goes against them."

Bahrs refused to comment on the bridge management's future course.

Several of the painters on the Golden Gate Bridge testified yesterday that Wilkins showed ineptness as a painter and that Haugabook some times did not follow correct safety procedures.

Previous witnesses had identified some of the painters as having been present when the paint superintendent, Hale D. Sharrett, made bigoted remarks about Negroes. The painters said they never heard Sharrett make any of the remarks attributed to him.

Painter Rodney Bauer said that on one occation Haugabook did not free his metal safety hooks to lower his scaffold and as a result, the scaffold became wedged in the bridge on the way down. Another painter, Richard Evans, said he pointed out to Haugabook that he had his safety line dragging too low and it could pull him off the scaffold if it became tangled on the way down.

Painter Leo C. Tubbs, of Pacifica, said, "The first couple of days, Haugabook did good sandblasting work. Then he slowed down, like a guy that just don't give a damn."

The painters said that Wilkins, who was hired out of a San Francisco car wash by the bridge management, seemed to be trying, but his inexperience was obvious.

"I observed he was trying," said James W. Knight of Farifax, "but he didn't know what he was doing. He was able to perform it after being shown, but not like he had the experience."

Earlier in the hearing, an FEPC investigator, Delmar Williams, testified that there is a white painter still employed on the bridge who falsified work experience on his application, the offense for which Wilkins was first discharged in 1965.

The painter, Robert Gregonis, of Glen Ellen, (Sonoma County) appeared at the hearing yesterday to contradict Williams' charge.

Gregonis said that he actually had done sandblasting, chipping and structural steel painting at Sonoma Enterprises of Santa Rosa, because he did work on the steel forms the company uses to make swimming pools.

He said he went to the home of the bridge's paint superintendent, Sharrett, to do some work on the swimming pool Sharrett had bought from Sonoma Enterprises, and Sharrett's wife put him onto the job at the Golden Gate Bridge.

He said it was true that the Kentfield firm for which he had earlier worked was a tree surgeon, but the company also did some construcion work in connection with termite removal. He said he gained experience in high rigging when he had to go to the top of redwood trees to trim them.

When he worked as groundskeeper at a state hospital in New Jersey, he often had to do painting work. "I started painting in my teens," said Gregonis, "and I've always had something to do with painting."

Larkspur Girls Tell Of Narcotics Shots

Two Larkspur girls, aged 16 and 14, who told Marin Sheriff's deputies Tuesday that the needle marks on their arms were from shooting "speed," or methedrine, were taken to juvenile hall as runaways.

Deputies said one of the girls reported using the drug 43 times. The other said she took a dose Monday. She still looked high, deputies said.

STORM

pockets to buy the food and coffee which they handed out."

A Boston City Hospital doctor and a nurse ran through the blinding snow to deliver a baby girl in a car trapped in traffic two blocks away.

Sabeno Rivera was driving his wife, Carmela, 23, to the hospital when they were caught in the snarled traffic. A policeman reported their plight to the hospital and Dr. Beach Conger, nurse Rosemary O'Brien and three helpers with medical supplies and a stretcher ran to the car where the baby was delivered.

Both mother and baby later were reported in good condition.

In the downwton area, restaurants became jammed beyond capacity, and many ran out of some foods.

By early evening every hotel in downtown Boston reported every available room as well as spaces which could be furnished with cots, had been sold out.

While the storm swept out to sea, temperatures plunged to record lows for the date from Ohio to New England.

The mercury settled to 2 above zero at Bradford, Pa., and it was 10 above at Toledo, Ohio. A 20-degree reading in New York's Central Park tied the record low for so early in the season there.

To the west, a mixture of snow, sleet and freezing rain created hazardous driving conditions from eastern Minnesota, through northern Wisconsin and into much of Michigan.

WAR

week ending last Saturday, one less than the previous week despite the heavy battles around Dak To. The South Vietnamese lost 279 killed and 810 wounded; allied forces lost 57 killed and 103 wounded and the Communists lost 1,802 dead.

The Communist mortar attacks on Dak To were so successful because of the very nature of the terrain—incredibly dense jungle vegetation including bamboo thickets which hid the muzzle flashes. Smoke from napalm strikes also obscured the attack area.

But a spokesman said the Americans managed to spot one cleverly hidden mortar position—the main one—and knocked it out.

The mortar assaults against Dak To's supply dumps and airfield yesterday and today cost 20 U.S. lives and wounded 22 Americans.

Several Errors Are Corrected

Yesterday's Independent-Journal report of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District board meeting contained several errors, Bolinas principal Keith Oveson said today. They were:

The next board meeting will be Nov. 27, not Nov. 28.

School open house will be 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., Nov. 29 at Stinson Beach School and Nov. 30 at Bolinas School.

School building bonds have been defeated at the polls twice, not three times.

The Greyhound bus route for Tamalpais High School students, which now goes onto Bolinas Mesa, is an extension of the route, not a new route.

Park Study Set

Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday appointed a committee to join with town officials in investigating possibility of the east Corte Madera park proposed this week by Pierre W. Joske, county director of parks and recreation.

Hosting Supervisors Hinges Questions In Advance

The 18 chamber members who met Tuesday at Clay's Farm House Inn, Olema, agreed to write supervisors of their displeasure, said chamber secretary Emma K. Benevenga of Olema.

County Administrator Alan Bruce telephoned Mrs. Benevenga on Saturday asking for the written questions, she said. The coast chamber had asked Supervisor Thomas T. Storer to check into the possibility of supervisors meeting on the coast.

"There's no point in asking the supervisors to come if there's not going to an open meeting," said Mrs. Benevenga.

Tire, Rim Stolen

George Condra of 315 Drake Avenue, Marin City, told sheriff's deputies yesterday a tire and rim were stolen overnight from his car parked on the street.

Cyprus War Fear Calms, Greeks Leave

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Tension eased on Cyprus today as Greek Cypriot troops withdrew at sunrise from two villages they overran in the most serious outbreak of communal fighting in nearly two years.

The government forces also released to U.N. peacekpeeing troops about 250 Turkish Cypriot men who had been rounded up in a house-to-house search yesterday after eight hours of fighting.

The U.N. troops took control of the villages and prepared to return the men home.

In Ankara, Turkey's Cabinet met through the night, its armed forces were placed on the alert and Turkey's airports were closed to civilian traffic for several hours. But the Greek Cypriot backdown appeared to ease the threat of retaliation from Turkey, 40 miles north of Cyprus, and the Turkish airports reopened.

Bay Police Chief Faces Charge

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Brisbane's police chief of three years, Lillard "Tex" Dyer, is free on his own recognizance after being arrested yesterday and booked on a charge of embezzlement.

Dyer, 39, was not available for comment.

Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson said that after several weeks of investigation by his office Dyer was charged with taking for his own use money paid the police department for accident reports. Insurance companies pay $2 each for copies of the reports.

Sorenson said a few hundred dollars was involved.

Dyer and his wife have eight children.

Pilot Reports Spin, Then X15 In Plunge

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — "I'm in a spin. . . . I'm in a spin."

Those words from the calm-voiced pilot of an X15 rocket plane that plunged into the desert from an altitude of more than 50 miles yesterday left investigators with a mystery.

Air Force Maj. Michael J. Adams went down to his death with the plane. Adams reported control troubles, but officials say that alone wasn't enough to cause the crash.

DEATH DELAY

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Adams may have delayed pulling his ejection mechanism in a last-ditch effort to gain control. That delay may have cost him his life.

Adams may have tried to eject from the craft and been unable to, but the spokesman said there is no indication this happened.

"There was apparently some kind of control malfunction as the pilot attempted to pull out of his descent," a NASA spokesman said.

LAST WORDS

"Pull it up.. .get some G on it, Mike," ground controllers told Adams seconds before he crashed. "Mike, do you read? Pull it up!"

Adams had reported control problems with the plane's dampers—devices to reduce oscillation as the craft is controlled. Then radar trackers showed he had regained control—but only for a very few seconds.

The NASA spokesman said there could be "any number of reasons" why "Adams failed to eject after he lost control of the X15 the second time. "He could have blacked out.. .maybe the Gs (the powerful force, several times that of gravity, caused by change in speed or direction) got to him."

OTHER CAUSES

The problem with the pampers could have recurred, he said, "but that alone wouldn't have been enough to cause the crash. There had to be something else, perhaps a major malfunction, perhaps not."

After flights investigating maneuverability in space X15s descend from high altitude on a glide path about 30 degrees below horizontal. The stubby ships come down pancake style as they enter denser atmosphere, where the pilot switches from automatic to manual control.

Adams' ship, one of three, crashed in the Mojave Desert north of Edwards AFB near the mining town of Johannesburg.

Adams, who lived at the base with his wife and three children, was on his 11th flight. The craft was dropped from the belly of a B52 at 10:30 a.m. and shot to about 265,000 feet on a routine research flight.

FUEL BURNER

The X15 burns its 10 tons of fuel in about 85 seconds as it accelerates. Then the ship noses over and begins the long dive to earth.

As it enters denser atmosphere the pilot begins to pull the craft out of its dive and begins a glide to a landing. This is where Adams ran into trouble.

A NASA-Air Force board has been appointed to investigate the crash.

Warren Report Critic Builds Four-Shot Case

NEW YORK (AP) — A new critic of the Warren report claims that three gunmen in three different locations fired a total of four shots in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Josiah Thompson, a philosophy professor turned investigator, disputes the Warren Commission finding that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer of the President.

Writing in the Dec. 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Thompson says he based his conclusion on detailed analyses of the pictures of the assassination and testimony of certain witnesses.

BUILDS CASE

In a statement, William A. Emerson Jr., the magazine's editor, said, "With painstaking care and formidable logic Thompson demolishes the Warren report by building a case for three assassins."

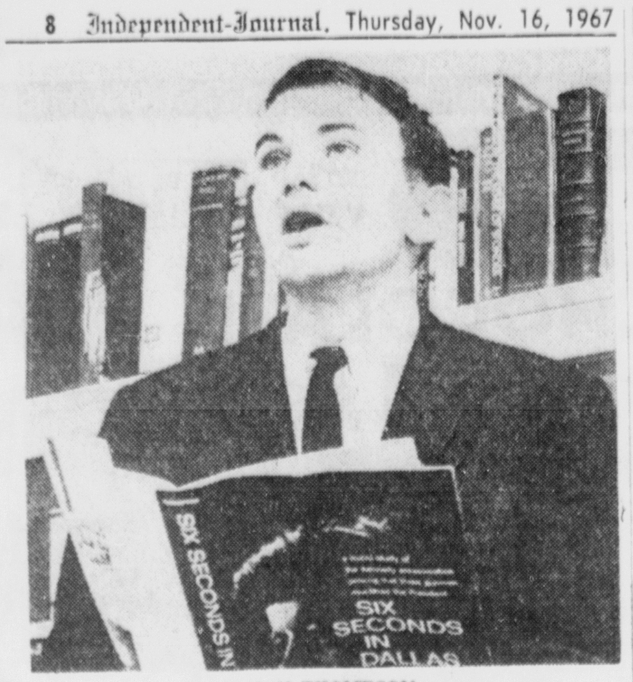

In an editorial accompanying the Thompson article, the Post said: "We declare once again that we believe the Kennedy mystery has not been solved, that the case is not closed."

Thompson, 32, who teaches at Haverford College, is a graduate of Yale University and Navy veteran. The article was extracted from his book "Six Seconds in Dallas" to be published Nov. 27 by Bernard Geis Associates.

'NEW EVIDENCE'

Thompson said his "new evidence does not prove that the assassination was a conspiracy. Nor does it prove Oswald's innocence. It shows that the question of Oswald's guilt must remain—four years after the event—still unanswered."

In his "reconstruction," Thompson argues Kennedy was hit by the first and third shots fired at the presidential motorcade. He believes they probably came from the Texas School Book Depository but were not necessarily fired by Oswald.

JOSIAH THOMPSON
New Kennedy assassin probe

Thompson claims the second shot came from a building to the rear of the motorcade—most probably the Dallas County Records building—and was the bullet that wounded Gov. John Connally.

Commenting on the Thompson thesis yesterday, Gov. Connally disputed the fourth shot theory. "I still contend there were three shots fired. I don't believe there was more than one assassin," he said.

Almost immediately after the third shot hit Kennedy in the head, Thompson claims a fourth shot also struck the President's head. He believes this shot was fired from behind a fence to the right and in front of the motorcade.

In part, Thompson based his conclusions on a study of an amateur movie filmed during the assassination by Abraham Zapruder, a spectator. The film was also central to the Warren Commission findings.

Thompson draws his theory of three assassins from interpretation of the facts of timing of the frames of the Zapruder film, but he does not speculate on who the gunmen were.

Less Money May End Route Feud

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city has decided to accept $4.1 million less from the state for rights of way through 14 miles of virgin land in an effort to settle the controversial issue of Junipero Serra Freeway routing.

The State Highway Commission has insisted on sending the road along the Crystal Springs reservoir, mainspring of the city's water supply, contending an upper route would be too expensive.

San Francisco officials have protested the commission's plan would threaten to pollute the water.

Acting Mayor Dorothy van Baroldingen said yesterday she hoped the lesser price for higher rights of way would provide a solution.

Bridge Board Slates Committee Session

State Crippled Children Fund Stand Blasted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An Assemblyman's charge that Gov. Ronald Reagan had made "cruel cutbacks" in the state's crippled children program drew a denial today from a top administration official.

"We are living up to our commitments," said Spencer Williams, Health and Welfare Secretary. He said the state now was treating up to 45,000 crippled children.

DENOUNCES REAGAN

Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, chairman of the money-handling Ways and Means Committee, called a news conference yesterday to denounce the administration for failing to answer his request for $750,000 added money for crippled children.

And he charged the administration, in refusing his request to include the subject in the current special session agenda, would bear responsibility for "cruel cutbacks in the care provided crippled children."

BUDGET ISSUE

The administration budget, which Crown piloted through the Assembly as Ways and Means chairman, carried a $9.7 million appropriation for the crippled children program —all that Reagan asked to be spent.

"The administration gave me no indication that the amount requested was insufficient to continue the program at ongoing levels," he said.

But, he added, the Department of Public Health announced Aug. 15 that crippled children with any one of 100 separate medical conditions would no longer be eligible to receive crippled children's care.

Crown said the cuts had forced county health officials to "pick and choose between children—a cruel choice of which are the worse off."

Williams responded that the budget, as presented by the administration had been considered adequate. But, he said, some counties had either overspent or not tried to hold expenses down.

Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, pioneered a plan for students to study and work.

New York's Mayor Pays State 'Nonpolitical' Visit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, declaring he won't run for president even if there is a movement to draft him, began a three-day "nonpolitical" visit to Los Angeles today.

As vice chairman of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, the New York mayor is expected to take a walk through Watts, probably Saturday.

He was to meet with Gov. Ronald Reagan early this evening in a Los Angeles hotel.

Some persons have linked the two Republicans on a possible presidential ticket next year, but both have denied interest in that.

The declared prime purpose of Lindsay's trip is to attend the opening of a three-week visit to Los Angeles by the New York City Opera.

Earlier today, Lindsay told a group at the University of Southern California that the only way for student activists to change the world is through government.

In his prepared remarks Lindsay said:

"If you want to ban the bomb, only government can do it.

"If you want to legalize pot, only government can do it.

"And if you want to make love not war—Well, I'm not sure this is a proper role of government; as a Republican I think the matter should be left to our system of private enterprise."

Grasshopper Ranks As Boston Feature

BOSTON (TP) — Faneuil Hall in Boston was the scene of many Colonial protest meetings before the Revolutionary War. The hall was designed by John Smilbert in 1742 and Charles Bulfinch added to it in 1805.

Steel, Copper Prices Up; Industry Lagging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders in the steel and copper industries plan price increases as the government reports a second straight monthly drop in the nation's industrial output.

As the price hikes were being announced yesterday, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board urged Congress to enact a tax hike to stem inflation. President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears all but dead for this session of Congress.

U.S. Steel announced it will hike prices of most types of wire and various materials for railroads by less than 3 per cent, effective Nov. 27. The nation's biggest steelmaker said the products involved represent about 3 per cent of its total shipments.

The increase is the latest in a series of steel industry price boosts this year. The items involved account for more than 25 per cent of industry shipments.

Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp., said meanwhile it will increase prices of its full range of tube products about 4 cents a pound beginning tomorrow.

The copper industry has been hit by a strike of miners since July 15. Phelps-Dodge said its boost will "partially compensate for the cost of obtaining copper" from other sources.

The Federal Reserve Board, announcing the decline in industrial output, blamed strikes and a 6 per cent drop in oil production resulting from an improved supply from the Middle East.

The board's index of industrial production dropped five-tenths of one point in October to 156.2 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. The index slipped 1.5 points in September, largely because of strikes—the biggest at Ford Motor Co.—and the curtailed oil production.

Toastmaster Unit To Receive Honor

Toastmasters International of San Rafael will receive the international organization's presidential banner at a noon luncheon meeting tomorrow at the Elks Club, San Rafael.

The banner will be presented by Harold Davis, Toastmaster's district governor, in recognition of the San Rafael club's position as home club of Lothar Salin, president of the entire organization.

Jurors Also Desire The Right To Vote

DENVER (AP) — The defendant in a District Court trial walked into court after the noon recess wearing a button that read, "I Have Voted — Have You?"

The jurors soon sent a note to the judge saying they wanted a chance to vote, too. They had been locked up since the trial began. Judge George McNamara then recessed the trial for the day so that deputy sheriffs could drive the jurors from one polling place to another until all had visited the voting machines at the city election.

'Model Cities' Grants To Two Bay Area Cities

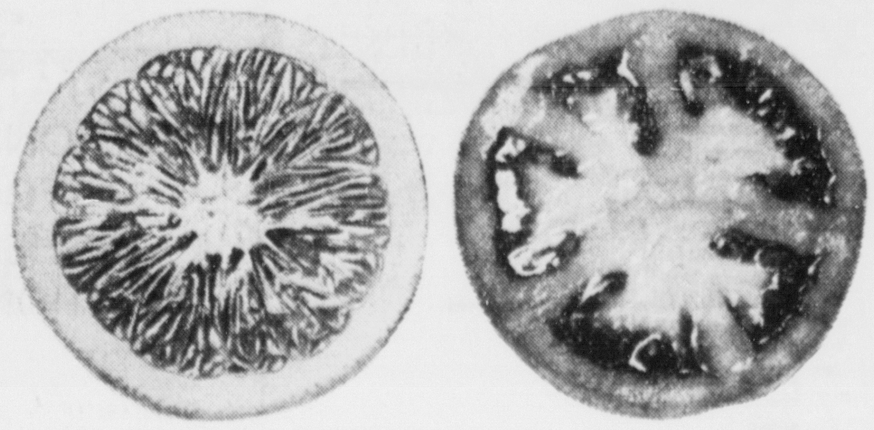

WASHINGTON (AP) —Three California cities will receive shares of an $11 million planning fund in the new federal "model cities" program, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced today.

Richmond, Oakland and Fresno will receive grants. The only other West Coast cities approved for the project are Portland and Seattle.

A total of 193 cities applied for planning grants. HUD approved projects for 63 cities in 33 states and the District of Columbia.

Should the one-year planning projects work out, the "model cities" will be eligible to divide some $500 million appropriated by Congress, as the start of a potential $23 billion neighborhood facelifting campaign.

Amounts of the specific grants to the California cities have not yet been revealed by HUD.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Chart shows state tax funds for operating expenses of higher education in the 1959-60 fiscal year compared with 1967-68.

Higher Education Needs Running Far Ahead Of Outlay By States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's colleges and universities are getting almost $4.4 billion from the states.

That's a record sum and more than triple the total of eight years ago. The growth during that period was as high as 449 per cent in New York State and 374 per cent in Massachusetts. The lowest increase was 73½ per cent in Oklahoma — a large gain nontheless.

But it's not enough, according to an eight-year survey of state tax appropriations for operating expenses of higher education. The study, made by Prof. M. M. Chambers of Indiana University, was recently issued by the Office of Institutional Research (OIR) of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The report pictures a kind of Alice-in-Wonderland situation, recalling the words of the Red Queen: "It takes all the running you can do to keep in the same place. If you want to get somewhere else, you must run at least twice as fast."

Thus, while financial support for the schools is increasing by record sums, the needs of higher education are growing at a faster pace and support in the future must be "at least twice as fast."

Reasons for the ever-mounting operating costs for education, according to the study include:

Enrollment increase (the 6½ million registered this year is almost twice the amount recorded in 1959, and the projection is for nine million in 1975).

Continuing inflation.

More expensive teaching equipment.

In the face of all this, the report warns that "many states which appear to be doing all they can for higher education must manage to double or triple their efforts."

McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, recently told a gathering of leaders of higher education they must convince the public of their "imminent bankruptcy" and seek a "drastic increase" in government support.

In a state-by-state breakdown, the report noted that some states which seem to be making the greatest progress in the area of increasing appropriations, still lag behind in their support of higher education in other ways.

As an example, the report cited Massachusetts, with its 374 per cent increase in appropriations over the eight-year period and an 80 per cent rise in the past two years, as trailing most other states in per capita support of higher education, the proportion of residents to whom public higher education is available, and the proportion of high school graduates who go on to college.

Chambers feels that the increase of state aid to higher education will continue through the 1970s, but he notes, "the great question for the future is whether the public commitment to educational opportunity for all who can benefit will be matched by the funds needed to keep the doors to higher education open without sacrificing quality."

Edwin M. Crawford, director of the OIR, notes that "the projected growth of public institutions over the next decade gives no opportunity for complacency or for reduced commitment to higher education by the nation's governors and state legislatures."

Port Authority's Budget Soaring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rising costs are expected to push the annual operating budget of the San Francisco Port Authority to $10.4 million next year.

It is estimated, however, that the 1968-69 budget year will be profitable because revenues will increase some $850,000 while expenditures will go up only $750,000.

Yesterday, authority directors authorized a call for bids on a gantry crane system for the new Army Street Terminal, expected to cost at least $500,000.

Conference On Draft Slated At Seminary

A conference on the military draft, including conscientious objector counseling, will be held at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary, Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The conference, open to the public, is designed to familiarize high school and college teachers and counselors and clergymen with the workings of the Selective Service System, according to Rev. Charles G. Robertson Jr., conference coordinator.

Ben Seaver of the American Friends Service Committee will discuss selective service laws and conscientious objector counseling at 9:30 a.m.

James Corder at 1:30 p.m. will discuss the problems facing the conscientious objector who is already in military service. Flint Anderson, student body president at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, will talk at 2 p.m. about "Draft Resistance" and the problems facing draft resisters.

There also will be a proposal to establish a Marin Central Committee for Draft Counseling, Robertson reported.

Robertson, campus minister at the College of Marin said sponsoring groups include the Marin County Council of Churches, students at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, the Catholic Peace Fellowship, College of Marin Students Against the War, and College of Marin Faculty for Negotiations.

Montana and Nevada are the only states without fixed daytime speed limits on open highways.

Rail Lot Fee Answer Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Southern Pacific must show cause Nov. 30 why it should not be held in contempt for continuing to charge parking lot fees on the San Francisco Peninsula.

The railway had disregarded a State Public Utilities Commission order to cease charging parking fees by Oct. 30 at all of its parking lots except San Francisco and Mountain View.

Forty four alleged offenses were enumerated before the commission yesterday. Under commission rules, the SP could be liable to a $500 fine for each offense.

Southern Pacific asked the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition. This was denied and the court then was asked for a writ of review.

Finance Firms Get A Challenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., has challenged the United States Savings and Loan League to join private enterprise in rebuilding the nation's deteriorating central city areas.

Addressing the league convention yesterday, Sparkman said, "I am confident that the U.S. League will play its part in the tremendous responsibility which our nation has in making decent, safe and sanitary housing available to low income families, particularly in the central city."

Sparkman cited the recent commitment by the life insurance industry to make available $1 billion for rebuilding cities.

Sparkman is sponsoring a measure to subsidize home financing for low income families. He said he hopes floor action on it by early December.

Hitler's Gestapo Chief Suspect Held In Panama

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian and West German police are investigating a graying, shabby peddler arrested on suspicion that he is Heinrich Mueller, Hitler's last Gestapo chief and Adolf Eichmann's boss.

The mystery man claimed he was a 61-year-old U.S. citizen, Francis Willard Keith, born in Webb City, Mo., but Panamanian authorities said his German-accented English was barely intelligible.

A preliminary check failed to turn up anyone who knew Francis Willard Keith in the Webb City area, which is in southwest Missouri near Joplin. Birth records of 61 years ago failed to show any listing that name.

PRINT COMPARISON

His fingerprints were flown to West Berlin for comparison with those of Mueller, who was reported alive in Hitler's bunker just before the fall of the Nazis in 1945.

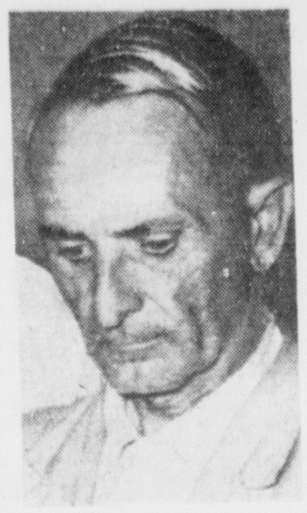

A West Berlin newspaper, the Berliner Morgenpost, said the city prosecutor showed 12 pictures taken of the man in Panama in 1966 to Mueller's divorced wife and she exclaimed: "For God's sake, it is him."

Prosecutor Gerhard Spletzer said later he had been in Munich yesterday to see Mrs. Sophie Mueller but that he could not confirm the report.

Mrs. Mueller was not immediately available for comment.

The chief of Panama's Department of Investigations, Hector Valdes, said there was a strong resemblance between the man arrested Tuesday and photographs of Mueller but his department had failed to connect the two.

"I don't believe he is the man," Valdes told a reporter.

ARREST IN PANAMA
Says he's someone else

GRAVE IN BERLIN

HENRICH MUELLER
Hitler SS leader

West Germany's Justice Ministry said the suspect was identified as Mueller by a Belgian informant who also said a Belgian graphologist had confirmed the suspect's handwriting was that of the former lieutenant general in Heinrich Himmler's SS Elite Guard.

Newsmen who viewed the suspect at a news conference last night saw a man apparently in his 60s with several days growth of stubble. He sat silent in the glare of television lights, wearing a light gray coat and faded brown trousers. When a reporter handed him a microphone, he gave it to Valdes who did not permit questions.

Mueller was believed dead by many Germans, but last week the West German Central Office for Nazi Crimes said it had uncovered a new "hot trail" to him. It came from Simon Wiesenthal, the Viennese Nazi hunter who directed Israeli agents to Eichmann in Argentina.

ARRESTED HIM

Valdes said he personally arrested the man in a Panama City restaurant and described him as a peddler of ties, honey and liquor who had lived in Panama for eight or 10 years Valdes called him "half crazy."

In London, Dr. Gerhart Riegner, secretary-general of the World Jewish Congress, said Mueller was a leading participant in the 1942 Wannsee conference which planned the annihilation of Europe's Jews.

Two employees of the Israeli Ministry of Labor were arrested on Nov. 2 in the Munich home of Mueller's wife. Their lawyer said they were seeking evidence that Mueller was still alive and were acting as private individuals, not on government orders.

Ex-Cellmate Of Big Crime Leaders Reported Missing

FORT LEE, N.J. (AP) — Ralph Wagner, the 34-year-old ex-cellmate of Joseph Valachi and reputed Cosa Nostra boss Vito Genovese has been missing since Oct. 19, police report.

According to federal authorities, it was Wagner who tipped off Valachi that Genovese planned to have him killed, when the three shared a cell in a federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

It was this tip, authorities said, that resulted in Valachi's bludgeoning to death a fellow inmate—the wrong man—in an attempt to save his own life, and to Valachi's subsequent appearance before a Senate committee in 1963.

DEATH MARK

During the hearings, Valachi told senators that he had received word he had been marked for death by Genovese, who did not like the way he had been acting.

Wagner, who had served a total of 15 years in prison on narcotics, assault and robbery convictions, was believed to have been a muscleman and enforcer for Valachi in the 1950s.

When Valachi started telling the Senate committee about the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, Wagner was taken from the cell he had shared with Genovese and Valachi and placed in isolation from other inmates.

To members of the organized crime syndicate—unhappy at their sudden and unwelcome attraction of public attention through Valachi's disclosures—the implication was that Wagner tipped off Valachi.

IN WITH MOB

Authorities said however that he subsequently appeared to have gotten back in with the mob.

Shortly after he was released from the penitentiary and returned to his father's home, here, they said, he began to wear flashy clothing and drive big cars—without a known source of income.

He was reported missing by his father on Oct. 29.

Calls To Teen Singing Idol Plug Up Lines

LOS ANGELES AP — More than 10,000 teen-agers from all over the world tried to telephone singing star Mark Lindsay last night — and cut off incoming long-distance calls to Los Angeles County's seven million residents.

Readers of "Dig" and "Fifteen" magazines had been invited to call the magazine's offices collect and speak with Lindsay, star of the singing group Paul Revere and the Raiders.

The calls came from Australia, Tokyo, London and all parts in the United States. Lindsay spoke with 300 of the callers, the magazine switchboard operators said they logged at least 10,000 calls, and no one knew how many more calls didn't get through.

Long-distance service to the county were blocked for almost two hours.

Public Defender Asks For More Case Funds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A big increase in San Francisco's crime rate has made it impossible to handle mounting case loads, Public Defender Edward T. Mancuso says.

He appealed to the Board of Supervisors yesterday to approve an emergency appropriation of $83,437 to permit his office to hire additional attorneys, one investigator and three clerical workers.

As it is, he said, "we are now giving the poorest service any Public Defenders Office can give," failing to provide "adequate, proper, intelligent representation of indigents."

Manouso displayed charts indicating that the case load was 25,123 in the past year involving increases of 50 per cent in Superior Court felony cases, 70 per cent in felony preliminary hearings and 170 per cent in misdemeanor traffic cases.

By providing the $83,437, Mancuso contended the city actually would be saving money, because it is costing so much currently to hire private attorneys to help out.

"Appellate courts have told trial courts to employ outside counsel when the judges feel the public defender's case load is too great to allow proper representation.

"In the past five weeks, judges in San Francisco have appointed outside attorneys that have cost the city about $75,000.

Loaded Gun In Car Brings $100 Fine

Richard Reeves of Petaluma was fined $100 in Northwest Marin Justice Court yesterday for having a loaded gun in his car Sept. 8 in an orchard near the Dolcini ranch in the Nicasio area.

Judge David R. Baty also ordered the weapon, a .303-caliber British rifle, confiscated and turned over to the Fish and Game Department.

Sanitary Board Canvasses Votes

Las Gallinas Sanitary District directors met briefly last night for the official canvass of the Nov. 7 election results, which found incumbents William E. Brook and John E. Duckett re-elected.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, district secretary, said the next meeting of the directors will be helt on Dec. 14. The question of pay for of the directors will be held on come up at that time. At present each director gets $25 per meeting, but a new state law allows up to $40 per meeting.

SURVEYOR SEES OWN TOES

Peering directly underneath itself by means of two polished beryllium mirrors, Surveyor 6 has televised back this picture of the lunar surface, including a bowl-shaped crater about eight inches across. Just above the crater is one of the lunar robot's three crushable, shock-absorbing landing feet—which apparently did not touch the rugged surface. Seen in the curved gap between the mirrors is the top of Surveyor's propellant tank. (UPI Telephoto)

Lack Of Discussion Held Factor In Poor Projects

Marin property owners and conservationists should dicuss their aims instead of making hearings before city and county commissions an "arena" for controversy, Harvey E. Bragdon, Mill Valley planning director, told members of the Conservation Council of Marin last night.

The compromise resulting from such controversies may end in what Bragdon called "poorly planned" projects such as Marincello, Mrs. John R. Barnard, council secretary, reported.

Bragdon said Marincello could have been well planned or there might have been no city there at all if conservationists and developers had discussed the project before they got to the acrimonious stage, Mrs. Barnard reported.

Twenty members of the council at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, near San Quentin Prison, heard Bragdon lament the fact that variances and other day-to-day problems take up so much time of planning bodies, while long range policy often is slighted, Mrs. Barnard said.

Pierre W. Joske, director of parks and recreation for Marin County, told members that county supervisors and parks and recreation commissioners will meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Room 400 of the Civic Center for a "work session."

Marin Youth Congress To Meet Saturday

The Marin Youth Congress, an outgrowth of the San Anselmo Town Meeting last April, will convene at the Sir Francis Drake High School gymnasium from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

High school students from throughout Marin will meet to discuss communication, recreation, students in government and social and academic aspects of school.

OPEN SESSION

Michael Tierney, chairman, said there will be an open general meeting, then group seminars and a closing general meeting, Tierney is senior class president at Drake High.

At the closing session, the group will vote on recommendations that come out of the seminars, and all recommendations passed will be "followed up," he said.

Adults will be limited to the role of observers on call to answer any questions or provide background or technical information, Tierney said.

"The idea isn't to attack or criticize present policies, but to offer constructive ideas or ways that things can be done better," he said.

THE DELEGATION

The organizing group is the student body president and a delegate of four students from each high school, Tierney explained.

A 'Life Begins At 40' Party—

By MOLLY MARIN

A "Life Begins at 40" party was held for Clyde Wrightsman and Carl Wandt at the Wandt home in Bel Marin Keys Saturday night when their wives surprised them with a birthday party. Among those helping the two celebrate were Messrs. and Mesdames Louis Kapler, Robert Lindsey, Charles Stewart and Lee Palmer. Mrs. Kapler had made and decorated an attractive cake, which showed the hobbies of the two celebrants — a miniature bowling alley complete with pins.

TO HELP CHARLES EKSTROM celebrate his 70th birthday, his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gronberg invited family members in for a party at their home in Novato. Mrs. Gronberg, with an assist from her mother, made one of her father's favorite swedish dishes, "Kropkakor" potato dumplings. On Saturday night, Mrs. Ekstrom invited more than 50 guests to their Sonoma home to again celebrate her husband's birthday.

MR. AND MRS. DON WEIRICK will entertain members of the Belvedere Lagoon's sun boat fleet at cocktails at 6 p.m. Saturday at their home in Belvedere. The group will go on to the large dinner-dance with a West Indies theme which Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gautier are giving later that evening at Tiburon Tommie's Restaurant.

MEMBERS OF LA CHAMADE CULTURAL Club in Tiburon will go to the home of Mrs. Miriam Wornum in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon for tea and to view the studio which the hostess, an artist, maintains in her Pacific Heights residence. This new club's motto could be "Women who lose together, gain together," as members are "alumnae" of a physical fitness program who have decided to continue the friendships made while slimming by forming a club for social and cultural exchanges.

AAUW Will Hear Of Hashbury Clinic

The Contemporary Trends Section of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women has arranged for Dr. David E. Smith to speak at the Monday general meeting.

Members and guests are invited for tea and a lecture by Doctor Smith at 2 p.m., at the PG&E Auditorium, Third and Brooks Street, San Rafael. This program is presented in conjunction with the Marin Branch's study of "Testing Values in a Changing Society."

Doctor Smith will speak about his clinic in the Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco which was staffed by volunteer physicians, nurses, and pharmacists who provided care for over two hundred people a day last summer. This free clinic was devoted exclusively to helping hippies with their health problems. Doctor Smith is a specialist in toxicology at the University of California Medical Center and is director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Clinic at San Francisco General Hospital.

Student Aid Is Sponsored By AAUW

The Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women has launched a campaign to send women college graduates to graduate school to qualify them for college and university faculty positions.

Applications are sought from women, 35 years or older, who need a stripened for tuition and fees at a college or university within commuting distance of the applicant's home.

Financial assistance for this program is also being sought from local business organizations and generous individuals in Marin. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Raymond Kaufman, 377 Highland Avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. James Carlisle of San Rafael is now studying at San Francisco State College under this program.

One Fashion First

NEW YORK (UPI)—Felt, popular in fall and winter 1967 fashions, is called the world's oldest fabric.

Researchers for one of today's producers of felt have found that: Felt was "invented" by the nomadic tribes of central Asia, long before it was mentioned in the ancient records of China, Greece and Rome. Odysseus wore a hide helmet lined with felt. Caesar's soldiers wore arrow-proof felt jerkins, and Genghis Khan wore white felt when he was crowned emperor of the Mongols.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Smokers Can Help Themselves By Starting A Stopping Club

DEAR HELEN:

They have Over-Eaters Anonymous, Weight Watchers, etc. Why can't somebody start Over-Smokers Anonymous?

I know smoking is bad for you. Before I started, I could run a mile without stopping. Now I can barely make a quarter mile. But I've tried to quit three times. No luck.

I you'll tell me about a No-Smoking Club teens, I'll join.

15-YEAR-OLD QUITTER, MAYBE

DEAR 15:

I don't know of a teen "cigarette-watchers," but look, chum: there was no "Over-Eaters Anonymous" etc., until someone decided to wage a personal "war on inflation," and organize a club.

So start your "war on inhalation" with a notice on your school bulletin board. Judging from all the kids who write, "I want to quit smoking but need the right push," you'll get plenty of takers.

H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is a long overdue letter, but I've been busy answering mail.

Back in March, Helen, you printed my tiny squib at the end of one of your columns, telling your readers that I had a list of lonely Vietnam servicemen, and would share their addresses with anyone who would write.

I wish you could have been here from then on! The requests came in bundles of up to 450 letters per day, until I had a total of some 8,000. In addition, they kept coming all through the summer and fall — are still coming. This made 7,500 more, a grand total of nearly 16,000 letters.

At first I tried to answer, although I ran out of servicemen's names in a few days.

But I also ran out of steam. This letter must do for many.

It was a very good feeling to know just how much the wonderful people of the United States care. I was overwhelmed. My sincere thanks to all of them, and also to the numerous people who took time to let me know they enjoyed corresponding with the men whose names I sent them.

Those letters, along with the other thousands, and most especially the letters from servicemen, have made all my writing worthwhile. God bless you all!

MRS. MARILYN MARTIN, Templeton, Pa.

DEAR HELEN:

Some time ago a girl wrote that she was having trouble with her mentally retarded sister. I might have written that letter several years ago. My brother was mentally and emotionally disturbed.

So often he would fly into a rage. Sometimes I thought he said hurtful things just to bug me. If we fought, it seemed my folks always took his side, their excuse being, "He's sick." No one seemed to understand that my feelings were hurt. I'd lock myself in my room, crying.

Finally, I learned how to cope. Here are some pointers for other teens in this position.

1. Find someone, a counsellor or teacher, who is a trustworthy and sympathetic listener. Talking it out will relieve a lot of frustrations.

2. Remember that the emotionally disturbed need help and you can help them with your patience.

3. If a conversation threatens to become an argument, leave the house and walk around the block a few times. That gives everyone chance to cool off.

4. If the disturbed person is already in a rage, or something is troubling her, ask her what is bothering her. You see, sometimes she believes no one is on her side, either. It's a thankless job, but she'll gradually give you her trust. And the lessening of her temper fits is reward enough.

5. Talk it over with your parents. You'll find they need your sympathy too — and they do love you very much. Never forget, it takes patience to become patient.

O.Y.S.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen Help You! Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Glittery Toes

Shiny gold and silver set the pace in evening shoes. The newsiest styles range from a rounded silver kid shoe on a gold platform to a gold-tipped and strapped silver shoe with the new covered heel. Edwardian buckles call attention to the squared-off toes of gold or silver shoes.

Color Creates Space

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Color can be used to create the illusion of space in the home.

From Magdalene Pfister, of the University of Nebraska Extension Service, come these tips. Light, cool colors such as soft blues and greens give the effect of space and airiness. Light tints of wallpaper without much contrast are more space-enlarging than a dark, all-over pattern. Even small designs in strong color seem to draw walls inward. And background colors identical to the walls give the look of more space.

Porto Bello West home on the Canal in San Rafael. It has been quite a challenge to Mrs. Edinger, who sold their 110 year old 15-room family home, one of the old mansions on the Sacramento River, and condensing her furniture into a two-bedroom house. The Edingers used to race with Dr. Chester Noyes a few years ago on his boat, "The Hoyden." Moored out in front of their home is a Columbia 31, which Mr. Edinger uses and a Flying Dutchman, which their son, Bill, uses.. Their other son, Carl, goes in for a fishing boat.

MR. AND MRS. W. C. SIMONSON of Mill Valley have received word of the birth on Nov. 9 of a grandson. The baby, who has been named David Lee Simonson, is the son of Sp/4 David C. Simonson, who is stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Hood, Tex. His wife is the former Florence Hawkins of Mill Valley. The baby was born on the senior Simonson's wedding anniversary.

DEBORAH THOMPSON, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Thompson Jr. of Belvedere, has pledged Gamma Xi chapter of Alpha Delta Pi sorority at University of California at Santa Barbara. Deborah, a graduate of Redwood High School, is a freshman in home economics at UC.

THE HEADLEY BROWN home in San Rafael was the site of the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Leffler B. Miller of Berkely, long time Bay Area residents. They met while students at the University of California, where Mrs. Miller was a Delta Zeta and Mr. Miller an Alpha Sigma Phi, and were married in Santa Rosa on Nov. 2, 1917. Mr. Miller is an architect for the San Francisco firm of Milton T. Pflueger & Associates.

The champagne reception was given by the couple's three children, Margery Brown, Stephen Miller of El Cerrito and Mrs. Marinell Coleman of Berkley, on Nov. 5. The honored couple drank champagne from an antique silver wedding cup and cut a three tiered cake. The buffet featured a complete service in gold, and the flowers were gold chrysanthemums. One hundred and thirty five people attended from all over the state.

The couple has seven grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. ALLEN PLONE are sponsoring an art show and sale at the Shelter Bay Clubhouse, Mill Valley, from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday to benefit the Boys Club of Southern Marin. # Shopping in the Village with Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

The Village is becoming a wonderland of gifts. You'll find treasures from around the world and around the corner in friendly Village specialty shops. For your holiday shopping convenience, all Village shops will be open until nine Monday through Friday starting the day after Thanksgiving.

New owners of CHERISH INN, Allan Johnstone and Jim Davidson, have lots of plans for making this attractive restaurant into one of the Bay Area's finest eateries. The Continental menu, supervised by Chef Davidson, boasts not one frozen dish and is a tribute to this famous cuisinier. Allan Johnstone brings to this job over twenty years of experience in the restaurant business in the finest places all over the country. He tells me that the completely new menu is not the only change in store here . . . there will be a new name too . . . INN MARIN. Do visit here soon and meet these charming new owners, sample their luncheon and dinner menus, see the banquet facilities for up to 100 persons, take in a luncheon or dinner fashion show and just generally enjoy yourself.

THE GOLDEN CHERUB is really living up to its name with a new shipment of bath and boudoir accessories rimmed with, natcherly, wee tiny golden cherubs. There are soap dishes, ashtrays and a pretty and really practical item . . . a round mirror, trimmed with a golden cherubs in a lazy susan design for dressing table accouterments. No more knocking over the perfume as you reach for the lipstick . . . just spin this gold-rimmed mirror and the cherubs will deliver your wish right to your fingertips.

Saw two fetching Baby Doll nighties at THE HOUR GLASS. One is by American Maid in either green or red nylon tricot with embroidered bees and flowers. The other, by Warners, is also available in waltz length and features red and white or navy and white checks on nylon tricot. Both styles are prettily lace trimmed.

Talking with Louis Reimers, Master Chef at L'ENTREE, I learned that the most popular party dates for the holiday season are filling up rapidly on his catering calendar. Therefore, holiday hostesses are hereby warned that they should call Louis soon to make their party plans. By the way, one need not be tossing a huge "bash" to use this complete catering service . . . many budget-conscious hostesses find L'ENTREE'S hot or cold hors d'oeuvres really "make" a modest cocktail gathering.

If you are not familiar with Sonoma Mountain Farm Chutney you have been missing a delicious condiment. These fine chutneys are found in Marin only at HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO, Marin's old country store. You can sample this chutney on Friday and Saturday (the 17th & 18th) when they will be demonstrated at HICKORY FARMS. Each variety of chutney, eight in all, is heavily packed with fruits, vegetables, nuts and spices in very little syrup. They are available singly or in a number of gift pack combinations in a wide price range. I love the little 1½ pint size packed in a Madiera Berry Basket for only $3.95 . . . a perfect hostess gift.

Imported and domestic wines for hostess gifts or for your own holiday table at VILLAGE LIQUORS. This shop carries an extensive line of unusually fine wines. If you are not quite sure about making your selection, just ask Dan . . . he'll be glad to help you.

It's getting to be holiday visiting time and MUTTS OF MARIN suggests you don't have to leave Fido at home . . . take him along with his very own sleeping bag . . . choice of red or blue and it rolls up and ties just like the big guy's.

About this time of year it seems that our handy-dandy modern kitchens were designed with T.V. Dinners in mind, and not for a full fledged Thanksgiving dinner. If you too have had trouble "juggling" The Bird, the pies and the sweet potato casserole let The HICK'RY PIT produce a truly homemade pie for your feast. Their pumpkin pies and the hot mince pies are "out of this world" and even the most crochety visiting relative will give them rave notices.

At ALBERTA OF MARIN you'll find all the makings for a magnificent holiday centerpiece. Her artfully artificial fruits and flowers can be used so many ways and for so many years that they are one of the better investments you can make in home decor.

Those beautiful Cattans at LAILA OF NASIMO'S are her exclusive design and are now available at the most posh stores across the country. These floating, diaphonous, ultra-feminine creations are fabulous hostess attire and memorable for "black tie" occasions. Her pale orange cattan with golden embroidery is my favorite.

With all due respects to The Pilgrims, it isn't everyone who looks forward to turkey as a meal for giving thanks. That master of Continental and Oriental cuisine, Stanley Toy, realizes this so his KUBLAI KHAN menu offers all sorts of gastronimical adventures including his new Steak & Lobster Dinner. This dish appears for a mere $2.95 and I guarantee both your tummy and your wallet will be thankful.

Paper party things have come a long way in both color and design as witness the collection for fall at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP. Autumn leaves, turkeys and Pilgrims appear on coordinated plates, napkins, place-mats and much more.

Holiday hostesses with the "mostesses" compliments will be wearing a crushed velvet jump suit from SUSAN'S FASHIONS. In beige, this design is subtly chic . . . in a wonderful wild print it is a "show stopper"! Lots of cocktail dresses in now at SUSAN'S . . . from a discretely covered-up look to daringly bare.

Christmas Decorating Of Park Is Approved

Corte Madera's Park and Recreation Commission last night gave the Village Square Association permission to decorate Menke Park at Christmas.

The association, to use Boy Scouts for labor, will include portable plants and bus stops in its decorative scheme. The latter will be trimmed as large Christmas packages.

Rev. Henry Fox, a commissioner and pastor of First Baptist Chruch, reported that an inter-faith Christmas carol program has been tentatively set for Dec. 13. He said a check will be made with Corte Madera schools and churches to determine how many singing groups can be obtained.

Request of Corte Mader's Volunteer Fire Department for permission to put Christmas decorations on the roof overhang of the public safety buidling was granted.

Commissioner Lois Fiscus also reported that the Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club will make necessary repairs of the memorial plaque at Menke Park.

A request by Mrs. John Ramsey of 12 Baltimore Avenue, that the Town of Corte Madera consider a site in town park for a new library was referred to town council. The present county branch library is in the recreation center at the edge of the park.

A report by the youth recreation committee on possibility of establishing a teen center in Corte Madera was continued until the commission's Dec. 27 meeting because commissioner Jack Southerland, chairman of the youth recreation committee, was absent.

Admiral Urges States To Police Own Waterways

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The commandant of the U.S. Coast Guard says increased enforcement of boating laws will be necessary because more Americans are taking to the water for recreation.

Adm. Willard J. Smith told the opening session of the annual conference of the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators yesterday that it is imperative states assume primary responsibility for enforcing most boating laws.

"The concept of a national police is repugnant to the American public," Smith said. "But too many Americans think of the Coast Guard as a police force."

Even with greater participation by the states, the admiral said there will be "gaps" which the Coast Guard will be required to fill, although its primary responsibility is confined to federal waters.

Argentina has a railway system 27,000 miles long.

Radiation Tests Made On Chickens

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Researchers at Texas A&M University are checking indications that some chickens may resist nuclear radiation better than others.

If the research bears out, the implications for humans are great. Researchers said some investigation showed hens exposed to radiation seemed more resistant than roosters.

Driver Nabbed In Speed Chase

A San Rafael man was booked into the county jail yesterday after the California Highway Patrol clocked his car at speeds from 110 to 120 miles per hour during a five-mile chase in Marin.

John Joseph Shelvy, 35, of 555 Canal Street, Apt. 23, San Rafael, told patrolmen he was an automobile salesman and drove a different car each day to "blow it out."

Officer Louis R. Disser reported he saw Shelvy traveling at high speeds at 9:15 p.m. and pursued him from the midspan of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the last San Rafael exit from Highway 17, about five miles.

Shelvy, cited for reckless driving, was released on bail of $115 and is to appear tomorrow in Marin Muncipal Court.

Rhode Island, smallest of the 50 states, has an area of 1,214 square miles.

'Spying Trip' Points Up Violations

About 30 homeowners in Terra Linda will be getting unexpected mail in the next day or so as a result of San Rafel Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner's little trip through the area on top a car.

The 30 residents have accessory structures in side yards he considered in violation of the city's amended zoning ordinance.

Hotchner told the planning commission this week he spied a further 70 structures but these were now within the standards set by the newly amended ordinance.

As for the residents out of line: They will be asked by the city to bring their buildings up to requirements.

The planning director said the purpose of his tour with binoculars and Associate Planner Charles L. Linthicum was also to map house numbers and to determine the use of each building.

No More Toll

BROOMFIELD, Colo. (AP) — The 25-cent toll on the Denver-Boulder Turnpike came to an end last September. Officials said this was the first toll road that was part of the public highway system ever to be paid off and become a free highway.

Proposed Course Would Require No Tax Revenues

A municipal golf course in Novato, proposed by the Hanna Trust on 150 acres it owns at the intersection of Highway 37 and 101, would be self-supporting and require no tax revenues, trust officer J. E. Burkhardt of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, said today.

The course would be constructed by the trust and leased to the city for $70,000 a year over a 50-year period. Income from operation of the course, Burkhardt said, would cover all expenses including the lease.

The estimated $595,000 cost of creating the course would include $50,000 to go toward building a clubhouse. Anything in excess of $50,000 spent on the clubhouse would have to be paid by the city.

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in reporting that nothing would be contributed by the trust toward the clubhouse.

The Mongolian government fixes rents so they do not exceed 4 per cent of the family income.

A Source Of Family Pride—One Of Marin's Newest U.S. Citizens

When Anne Christine Westerlund came with her parents to Marin from Sweden five years ago she was only 7 and couldn't speak a word of English.

But now Anne, one of the county's newest American citizens, is doing so well at Marinwood School her progress is a source of family pride and joy.

"I am very pleased with the progress she is making despite starting off with the language difficulty," said her father, Gunnar B. Westerlund, at the family home at 12 Mount Susitna Court, San Rafael.

HAPPY AT LAST

"We always wanted her to attend American schools because the school system here is very good. I am happy with the schools in Marin."

He and his wife are natives of Finland and although they came to the United States in 1947, both were back in their native country when Anne was born. Westerlund was a representative for an American office equipment company at the time.

When she was 3 years old, the family moved to Sweden and Swedish became Anne's only language. "Now she can speak English fairly well except for one or two of the most difficult words," said her father.

Both parents were present at the ceremony at the U. S. District Court in San Francisco when Anne became a citizen last month.

MARRIED COUPLES

Several married couples were among the other Marin residents naturalized citizens during the month.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Rene Comensoli of 860 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Misailidis of 12-A Austine Avenue, San Anselmo; Mr. and Mrs. Juan Luis Gonsalez Rivas of 123 Mabry Way and Mr. and Mr. Kenneth W. Shields of 685 Knocknaboul Way, both of San Rafael.

Other new citizens were:

Fairfax — Jean Leo Peters of 155 Lansdale Avenue.

Fort Baker — Mrs. Rosemarie Hung.

Mill Valley — Per Simen Nakkim of 960 Greenhill Road and Mrs. Ingeborg Antonie Weeks of 363 Vista Linda.

Novato — Mrs. Linda Ann Clustka of 740 Bradley Avenue and Mrs. Angelina A. M. Medeiros of 1955 Novato Boulevard.

San Anselmo — Mrs. Georgette Butarescu of 21 Ross Avenue Apt. 2 and Arturo D. H. Kirwen of 21 Yolanda Drive.

Woodacre — Woolgang Harnut Friedrich of 6 Buckeye Circle.

The state flower of Louisiana is the Southern Magnolia.

NEW CITIZEN—Born in Finland, then a resident of Sweden, 12-year-old Anne Christine Westerlund's triumph is her mastery of English. Anne became an American citizen last month after five years in this country. (Independent-Journal photo)

'Major Link' In Evolution Discovered

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Discovery of a "major connecting link" in the evolution of man has been announced by a Yale University professor of geology.

Prof. Elwyn L. Simons said yesterday a newly unearthed skull is eight to ten million years older than any previously found.

Simons led an expedition which discovered the skull in Egypt. The fossil belonged to an ape which lived 28 million years ago.

The skull, which is incomplete, is "better preserved than any fossils relating to man that are older than 300,000 years," he said.

The fossil, found 60 miles southwest of Cairo in the Fayum Desert, represents "a major stage in the documentation of the forerunners of man," Simons said.

The animal was "about the size of an organ grinder's monkey," he said.

Dance For Teens

The San Geronimo Valley Teen Club will hold a dance and jam session from 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday at the Woodacre Improvement Club. Young musicians may bring their instruments to play at the session.

Marin To Get Delayed Funds

The state Department of Mental Hygiene will pay the $16,324 in Short-Doyle funds which it still owes Marin County for the third quarter of the last fiscal year, January through March.

Dr. Clyde G. Miller director of Marin's Community Mental Health Services, said he received this assurance in a letter from Dr. William B. Beach Jr., deputy director of the division of local programs, for the mental hygiene department.

The $16,324 shortage for the third quarter will be paid along with Marin's fourth quarter claim of $132,342, Dr. Beach wrote in his letter to Dr. Miller.

The county at one time had threatened to take legal action if necessary to collect the amount due from the state.

Youth Seriously Hurt In Wreck

A Concord youth was seriously injuried early today when his eastbound car slid off a curve on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and rolled over.

The California Highway Patrol reported the accident occured west of Rosebank Avenue in Kentfield at 12:05 a.m.

Robert Dorigo, 18, of Concord, was reported in poor condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital, with chest and head injuries.

His passenger, Thomas Michael Vukovich, 18, of 34 Windward Road, Corte Madera, was treated at the hospital for a scraped right forearm and cuts on both knees.

New York's Manhattan borough is 13.4 miles long, and 2.3 miles wide at its widest point.

Four Seeking $75,000 Over Destruction Of Houseboats

A $75,000 suit was filed against Marin County and the City of Larkspur in Marin Superior Court yesterday — the result of last May's bulldozer destruction of 17 arks on Larkspur's Boardwalk 3.

The houseboats were demolished by a Larkspur city crew to eject dwellers from land condemned for the Corte Madera Flood Control Project.

The suit was filed for Eunice van Sluizer of 1613 Bridgeway, Sausalito, Mr. and Mrs. Jame Governor of Boardwalk 4, Larkspur, and Nancy Bean.

Each asks $25,000 from the county, Larkspur and their political subdivisions for the destruction of the arks.

The suit also contains two petitions for $25,000 by Mrs. van Sluizer against Alice B. Copeland as executor of the Adolph A. Tiscornia estate.

The first contends her ark rested in part on Tiscornia property, that she paid rent for the real property and that Mrs. Copeland was compensated for the ark when she sold the real property to the county.

The second says Mrs. van Sluizer now believes that Mrs. Coepland, acting for the estate, misrepresented herself as the owner and collected rent.

Mrs. van Sluizer alleges this damaged her negotiating position, saying ark owners whose property was on Tiscornia land were compenasted.

Giant, Invisible Rabbit To Cavort On Prep Stage

The tale of Harvey, the seven-foot rabbit, and his friend Elwood P. Dowd will be performed Friday and Saturday at San Rafael High School Auditorium.

Elwood, played by Don Rosenberg, creates problems when he introduces his buddy to others who cannot see him, as relatives, played by students Jama Tegeler and Cindy Prescott try to cover up their embarrassment. Complications continue when the relatives decide to send Elwood, and presumably his friend Harvey, to Chumley's Rest.

Others in the cast include Larry Van Amen, Pam Nelson, Richard Britting, Dave Hyams, Jerry Schoenstein, Caren Gregg, Sharon Tringali, Heidi Phillips.

The play is directed by teacher Mrs. Eleanor B. Gaustad with the assistance of student Kathy Brown.

Airlines in the United States now employ approximately 23,300 pilots.

Sgt. Wade Powell will serve as liaison officer between the posse and the sheriff's office.

Duke Is Planning A Second Concert

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Duke Ellington says he plans a second concert of sacred music to be presented next January in New York City.

The composer and pianist was in San Francisco yesterday to pick up a scroll of appreciation for his first sacred concert, two years ago at the Episcopal Church's Grace Cathedral.

Ellington said that first sacred concert has been repeated more than 50 times in churches throughout the country.

Classical Spanish Guitar Concert Set

SHADES OF MARQUIS' PET

MEMO TO CITY DESK
From Mill Valley

Dear Boss:

You asked me to check out a pixilated cat who is spending all his days in the Mill Valley library. I have checked him out and it is my opinion that he is not really a cat but actually the direct lineal heir and, who knows, maybe the corporeal reincarnation of Archie the Cockroach.

You remember Archie who used to work for Don Marquis. He was the reincarnation of a vers libre bard. That is why I think the cat — who is named Flower Bower Gower Champion, but is only called Flower — is the next descendant.

Who but a poet or some kind of literary nut would spend all day in the library, sneaking in at opening time and leaving only at closing? Especially when they don't even feed him and there are no rats for him to catch because it's a new library.

There is a lot of circumstantial evidence. Flower was never born, for instance. He just appeared one day in the street three months old on Throckmorton Avenue in front of Old Mill School. That's significant.

He was picked up by Mrs. Betty Eichler and her family of 386 Throckmorton, right across from the library. And this was two years ago before the library was built, which must mean some kind of prescience on Flower's part, right?

Flower is a tomcat, but he doesn't act like the average tomcat. He has a lot of class. He isn't your rowdy alley fighter, for instance. That's one reason he goes to the library and patrols the stacks.

The Eichlers, Boss, already had a tomcat, named Puss (that's probably a story in itself). Puss didn't mind having Flower around as a kitten, but when he started growing into another tomcat, Puss put his foot down. With the claws out.

He made things hot for Flower, I can tell you. Chopped him up whenever he came around. The town wasn't big enough for the two of them.

That was when Flower started taking long walks after lunch for his health. He used to go hang around the school where the kids would play with him. Then he discovered the library not long after it opened a year ago and found out that he could dash in the door when people went in.

Once inside, he could saunter around the carpeted floors, lie in front of the fireplace and purr, and have people pet him if he felt like it.

He is the major domo of the library and the librarians think he is a lucky token. It is especially lucky that he is housebroken and presents no problem of that sort. A lot of class.

You may remember that some literary taxidermists read into Archie's memoirs that he had a case for Mehitabel the Cat. I don't hold with that Freudian guff but if there's anything in it Archie sure would have come back as a tomcat so he could deal with Mehitabel on her own terms.

Flower was named for the . . . well, the skunk, in Bambi, mostly because of his black and white coloring. Then the Eichler children tagged a rhyming name on him to make him Flower Bower, and Mrs. Eichler added Gower Champion because she used to work for him. It's a lucky thing there were no hippies around to add Flower Power or he would have had too much name to walk around under it.

Anyway, Flower has learned to live with his persecutor, Puss, like some of those Japanese that live on the edge of a volcano. And like Mehitabel, he learned to live out of garbage cans. He sneaks out of the library at dinner time and slinks from car to car along the curb for home, keeping an eye out for Puss. When the home door opens, he is through it like a flash and sitting down at the dinner table before Puss even has his napkin on.

He eats in a hurry and then usually goes back to the library for a few hours' duty before coming home for the night. He comes home without dropping his shoes or making any racket and corks off until morning and time for another siege at the library.

With the library planning to open Sundays now, he should have it better than ever.

I think it would be nice if the library staff would leave a typewriter out for him and a little paper, though. He might want to write some more reports like he did for Don Marquis. If he could write vers libre as a cockroach, think what he could do as a cat.

Same Tomales Unification Plan Handed To State For Fifth Time

By FRANK FTRRARA

A proposal for overall unification in the Tomales High School District — four times rejected by the Satte Board of Education — will go before the board again.

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization recommended the plan last night after a public hearing at West Marin School attended by about 20 persons. (Another story, page 24.)

Committee members acted from conviction that it is the best plan because of community support, with hope for a change in state board attitude and little alternative because of deadlines.

ONE DISSENT

The vote was 9-1 with Jack L. Mengel, who advocated a broader plan, possibly a Tomales-Novato Unified combination, the lone dissented. Committee Member Davis D. Ring was absent.

There was no opposition voiced from the audience, and Robert A. Borello, a member of the West Marin School District board, contended that the plan had the backing of the community.

Since state board approval is necessary for an election, the residents of the area have never had a chance to vote on any unification plan, including one Tomales-Tamalpais proposal.

The plan recommended by the committee calls for unification of the Tomales High School District with its component elementary districts, West Marin, Point Reyes, Tomales Bay, Bodega Bay and Watson.

The state board has rejected the overall Tomales proposal because it doesn't have enough students to meet the minimum requirement of 2,000. (The 1967-68 enrollment in the districts totals 802, with 599 pupils from kindergarten through eighth grades and 203 at Tomales High School.)

"We should be left alone, even though the enrollment isn't 2,000," said Borello. "Splitting or incorporating isn't going to solve the problem, and the only problem is the problem of educating children."

PLAN 'BEST'

Committee Member Roy A. Parks, a member of the Tomales High School District board, said the overall plan "is the best arrangement at this time."

Parks felt that perhaps the propoasal could qualify under a provision in the unification law for "exceptional circumstances" or perhaps there would be some new members on the state board who would view it that way.

The committee will submit the plan to the State Board of Education by February, Mrs. Conner said. If the board approves it, there would be an election in June, 1968.

If the state board rejects it, the committee will have to submit a Tomales proposal in six months. "This is sort of a merry-go-round," Mrs. Conner said. "Six months isn't adequate time to do anything other than return the same plan."

Any Tomales plan involving another high school district, would require the committee to develop a plan for the remaining portion of the other district, and there wasn't time for such an undertaking, Mrs. Conner reported.

The committee also recommended that the overall Tomales district have a seven member board with trustees from trustee areas, but elected at large.

The recommended trustee areas were:

1. Point Reyes School District and old Inverness School District.
2. Old Olema School District and a portion of the Old Black School District, bounded on the north by the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road.
3. The portion of the old Black School District extending northward from Point Reyes-Petaluma Road.
4. Old Marshall District and that portion of the old Tomales Union District, bounded on the north by Estero de San Antonio and Fallon-Two Rock Road.
5. Bloomfield School District and that portion of the Old Tomales Union District, bounded on the west by Highway 1 and on the north by Fallon-Two Rock Road.
6. American Valley School District, Watson School District and that portion of the old Tomales Union School District, bounded on the southe by Estero de San Antonio and on the east by Highway 1.
7. Bodega Bay School District.

The committee also recommended that the tax rate for the overall district should produce the same amount of revenue that would be produced by the maximum legal tax rates in the component districts.

The committee also recommended that the bonded indebtedness of the component districts be leveled throughout the unified district.

Leveling of the bonded indebtedness requires a two-thirds vote, but Wals Oglesby, field representative of the State Department of Education, explained that a new law porivdes that if bond leveling fails, the unified district will have to pay the indebtedness.

"No matter what, you will level," he said.

Oglesby said the unified district would have to pay the bonded indebtedness of the districts which would no longer exist.

Funds to pay off the bonded indebtedness would come from an over-ride tax, levied throughout the new unified district, he said.

School Bounds Chairman Is Elected Again

Mrs. Watson M. Conner of Greenbrae was unanimously re-elected chairman of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night.

David D. Ring of Tiburon was elected vice chairman succeeding Jack L. Mengel of Corte Madera, who served in that post two years. (Another story, page 23.)

At its annual organizational session following a public hearing on Tomales unification at West Marin School, the committee also retained the third Wednesday of each month as its regular meeting date. The committee usually meets at the Marin County Schools Office, Corte Madera, at 8 p.m.

Committee members also:

1. Designated its study area for unification all of Marin County and the Sonoma County portion of the Tomales High School District.

2. Recommended approval of the transfer of Mariner Green Townhouse property, about 3.46 acres, along Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, from the Larkspur School District to the Reed Union School District.

Brusseau Is Named Head Of Employees

Paul Brusseau, of the Marin County Employees Association, was re-elected president last night for another year.

About 80 employees gathered at Civic Center for the election of new directors and officers.

Serving with Brusseau will be Gene Weaver of the department of public works, vice president; Helen Sussman of the auditor's office, treasurer; and Leona Meysembourge of the health department, secretary.

Directors elected for two-year terms were Brusseau, William Desmond of environmental health, James P. Lethbridge of the assessor's office, Miss Meysembourg, Stanley Rowan of the county fire department, and Weaver.

Elected for one-year terms were Frances J. Cerini of the tax collectors office, Edward Klementovich and Raymond Barton of the sheriff's office, Mrs. Sussman, and Robert Nelson of the agricultural commissioners office.

Frederick H. Ward, general manager of the association, announced that the installation dinner-dance will be held at Peacock Gap Country Club on Jan. 13.

Orbit Bomb Denied By Soviet Spokesman

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet commentator today denied U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's suggestion that the Soviet Union is developing an orbital bomb.

Alexander Boiko, writing in the weekly newspaper Moscow News, said McNamara was "making up fabrications about the Soviet Union." He said the only evidence McNamara had was the series of Soviet Cosmos satellites.

Milk Truck Looted Of Dairy Products

Someone pried open the door on a milk delivery truck between midnight and 4:55 a.m. today, and took $7.97 worth of dairy products, Novato police reported.

Army Says It Cannot Dredge Novato Creek

The Army Corps of Engineers cannot dredge Novato Creek and the only apparent solution to the silting problem is the formation of an assessment district to do the dredging.

These were the main points of a meeting last night between the Bel Marin Keys Community Service District Board and three representatives of the Corps in the pavilion at Bel Marin Keys, according to Mrs. James Zoeller, secretary to the district.

Lt. Col. Harry Roper told the board that there was nothing that the Corps could do because Novato Creek is not a public port facility and does not offer any services such as public docking, gasoline stations or other services, Mrs. Zoeller said.

Joseph Forrest, deputy county counsel, told the board that an assessment district could be formed to do the dredging, Mrs. Zoeller said.

The community service district, although it is a tax levying agency, can spend money to take care of the lagoons, but cannot spend the tax money on Novato Creek which is on state land, Mrs. Zoeller said.

"There is one other possibility of getting money through the state department of recreation, but that would be a long procedure and not sure," she said.

Forrest told the group that it would take a year to a year and a half to form an assessment district if the residents wanted it, according to Mrs. Zoeller.

No estimate was made on the cost of dredging the creek and could not be until the area has some source of money for the study, she said.

In addition to Colonel Roper, Richard Eng, who is in charge of the Novato Creek flood control project for the Corps and Ralph E. Blyberg, chief of navigation and shoreline planning for the Corps, attended the meeting. There were about 20 interested residents in the audience, she said.

Diggers Find Gold Of King

BOSTON (SS) — Part of the gold of King Croesus' city has been dug up at his ancient capital of Sardis in Western Turkey.

Archaeologists of the Harvard-Cornell Expedition, now in its tenth year of digging, uncovered remains of Early Bronze Age farmers — as identified by implements — buried in giant jars, five to six feet high, dating from 2500 B.C., 1,000 years earlier than other objects found in the area.

Within the city of Sardis itself, an ancient altar was found, used for fire sacrifices around 550 B.C. during the reign of the fabulously rich and powerful Croesus, King of Lydia until he was overthrown by the Persians. Bits of gold jewelry, lion-shaped lamps and other rich artifacts were unearthed.

Permit Is Denied

Application by Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Slewing of 142 Westward Drive, Corte Madera, for permission to convert a double garage to a recreation room and to build a carport in front of the garage was denied last night by the Corte Madera Board of Adjustments.

Japan Gets No Pledge Of Okinawa's Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan departs Washington bearing a promise the United States will return the Bonin Islands, including the World War II battleground of Iwo Jima, to Japan within a year.

But the 66-year-old Japanese leader was unable to win a timetable promise from President Johnson for a similar return of strategic Okinawa to Japanese control. The key American defense base is only 350 miles from the Chinese mainland.

Sato flies to New York today for meetings with U.N. Secretary General U Thant after two days of hard bargaining sessions with Johnson over Okinawa, a politically explosive issue in Japan.

Johnson and Sato worked out an agreement to establish an advisory committee to the U.S. military high commissioner of the Ryukyu Islands.

The commission's job will be to lessen the economic and social differences between the 950,000 Okinawans and the 100 million Japanese.

A communique issued by Johnson and Sato said the United States would retain military facilities in the Bonin Islands.

Britain Urges U.N. Action To Settle Mideast Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain plans a determined effort to prod the U.N. Security Council into unanimous action toward a settlement to the Middle East stalemate, declaring that the "time to decide has come."

The United States urged the council yesterday to reach an accord calling for Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab lands but also supporting Israel's insistence on "secure and recognized" boundaries.

"Only the parties themselves can make peace," added U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

The council did reach a decision on Portugal, condemning the Lisbon government for permitting foreign mercenaries to use Portuguese Angola for an abortive invasion of the Congo.

In the Middle East debate, Britain's Lord Caradon complained that the Security Council has been bogged down for weeks by "dreadful and damaging delays and persistent and frustrating disagreements."

The council may consider as many as four separate Arab-Israeli peace plans. A U.S. plan and an India-Mali-Nigeria proposal are formally before the council, Argentina and Brazil are ready to introduce another and Britain is reported working on a separate draft.

Fourteen members of the Senate were later elected to the Presidency.

CIA Interview March Deplored

STANFORD (UPI) — A top faculty group at Stanford University adopted a resolution yesterday condemning the Nov. 1 demonstration against campus interviews by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The protest by about 100 students and nonstudents blocked the entrance to Encina Hall.

The resolution urged the 948 professors who belong to the Academic Council to "respect the provisions of the university's policy on campus demonstrations."

RAIN OR NO

J. F. Kennedy Memorial March Set

Whatever the weather, a large group of people of all ages is expected to gather Saturday for a march to the top of Mount Tamalpais.

This is no protest and there will be no picket signs.

Instead, hikers from throughout the Bay Area will be meeting for the third annual "Kennedy Memorial Hike" to commemorate President John F. Kennedy's physical fitness program.

MARINE ESCORT

A Marine Corps Color Guard from Treasure Island will form an escort at the start of the walk at Mountain Home Inn Parking lot on Panoramic Highway at 9:30 a.m. The route will be up the Throckmorton Trail and down the West Point Trail.

The hike will be led by Richard E. Gillispie of San Anselmo and chairman will be William E. Luckey, an ex-Marine of San Leandro, originator of the event.

STORER TO TALK

Thomas T. Storer, chairman of Marin County Board of Supervisors, will be master of ceremonies. In charge of registration is Ed Chavez, student activity director of Tamalpais High School.

Hikers are expected to have with them water, lunches, stout walking shoes and raingear if necessary.

Anti-Smog Mail Demands Action

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch and members of the legislature yesterday opened 32 bags of mail from Californians asking government to do something about smog.

Finch said citizen interest was mainly responsible for the "Murphy Amendment" to federal anti-smog legislation which permits California to retain its higher standards for vehicle pollution.

Assemblyman John F. Foran, D - San Francisco, chairman of the Assembly Transportation Committee, said he believed the legislature next year will pass a "tough" anti-smog bill controlling vehicle exhaust. He said 90 per cent of the smog problem was vehicle-caused.

Driver Finds Garage Missing

Jerry Lewis, of 23 Beach Road, Belvedere, reported to police yesterday that, when he returned home from work at 5 p.m. to put his car in the garage he couldn't find the garage.

Lewis said he had stored a refrigerator, some paint cans, a suitcase and a barbecue in the missing structure.

George C. Drejes, owner of the residence, told police the dilapidated garage Lewis had been using did not belong to the house and he beleived it was owned by the Belvedere Land Co., owner of the adjacent property.

Police said the garage might have been demolished during the day in connection with some nearby construction work.

Bircher Flays Washington War Policy, Public Control

By MARY LEYDECKER

"We are at war in Vietnam as an excuse for the administration to exercise more controls over the American people and to levy more taxes," a John Birch Society speaker charged yesterday.

Speaking to a room packed with about 100 students at College of Marin, Gary Woodward, of Larkspur, Marin County section leader for the society, explained his views of "Why we are in Vietnam."

Saying that the administration's only aim in the war is to "exercise more control over our lives," Woodward said that if the U.S. were trying to keep Communists from controlling Asia, then the administration would try to win the war.

'ON SAME SIDE'

"Everyone's on the same side except the poor guys getting shot at," Woodward stated. He added that United States economic dealings with Russia and other Communist countries help them to back the North Vietnamese.

"When we sell wheat to Poland we make it possible for their factories to turn out materials of war which are sent to North Vietnam," he charged.

He claimed that under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization all involvement in that area must go through the United Nations where Russians hold key positions.

Turining out the present administration through the ballot box was Woodward's answer to how to change what he described as Communist influence in the government.

ESCALATION SEEN

Otherwise, he said, more wartime controls will be exercised by the government and the war will be escalated into a full scale war with China with "Russia on the sidelines waiting to waltz us all into a one-world government under the U.N."

Woodward said he does not think America should have become involved in Vietnam but that now "we are there we should win the war as quickly as possible."

Asked by a student how this could be done without a great loss of life, he responded that cutting off supplies to Russia and eastern Europe would be effective as well as blockading Vietnamese harbors to English and French ships bringing in supplies.

AGAINST MARCHES

Woodward also spoke about civil rights, saying that the Birch society is very much in favor of equal rights for everyone but against protest demonstrations because he feels they are Communist led.

"Divide the blacks and whites" is the Communist policy, he asserted. He answered students' questions about how he knew this by saying that the Birch society has six speakers who are Negroes formerly involved in civil rights movements who now say they were duped by Communists.

Reports Differ On Prison Sales Of School Furniture To State

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A conflicting report on whether the state's furniture manufacturing industry in its prisons is competing with private industry was revealed this week as the assembly rules committee held a lengthy hearing.

On the one hand, representatives of private furniture manufacturers for classrooms said the correctional industries sold $2.9 million worth of furniture to public schools in 1966. G. W. Holsinger, president of a Burlingame firm and president of the California Distributors Committee, said the Correctional Industries Commission (CCI) realized a profit of only 2 per cent or about $195,000 on total sales of its products (including other than classroom equipment).

"This low figure is incredible in view of the wage scale of from 2 cents per hour to 16 cents per hour paid to inmates." Holsinger said.

However, Robert Lawson, CCI general manager, said the state sold only $111.213 worth of furniture to the schools in 1966. He said the CCI had set a limit of $150,000 worth of sales a year and never came close to that limit.

Lawson said that, at the program at Deuel Vocational Institution, near Tracy, 143 men had been employed in a program of building tube-type desks and chairs for schools. However, he said 30 had been laid off a week ago and 55 more were to be laid off because there was no work for them — no sales.

"Now these men will have to be over-assigned to work crews, to sweep floors," Lawson said. "These jobs had been a basic part of learning how to work. We get hostile, young, aggressive guys who have never worked in their life."

SEEKS MEETING

Ray K. Procunier, director of corrections, said he wanted to meet with representatives of the furniture industry to clear up misunderstandings.

No good explanation was given during the hearing for the wide discrpency of facts and figures presented by the industry representatives and those from CCI.

On one hand, the industry officials said they were unable to get bid information from the state and that their low bids on furniture jobs threatened to put some manufacturers out of business. However, Lawson said its price lists were public and sent out in large numbers.

ONLY BIDDING

Lawson said also the CCI program involved bidding on projects or material for public agencies.

Assemblyman George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno, noted that the state was in the business of providing equipment for court houses. However, Lawson said that the last job of this type done was for the Marin county civic center and no more would be done.

Lawson said that, at San Quentin, all of the supervisors in the CCI program had gone to school and qualified for teacher credentials. In addition to the work, the men in the program attended classes at night. Of the 119 men who came in for night classes, at San Quentin, Lawson said 99 had completed a year.

NO CONCLUSIONS

Of the 32 men who have been paroled since the training and schooling, not enough information is available to make firm conclusions, Lawson said. However, he said 22 went to jobs related to the work they had done in the institution.

Holsinger said his industry "has traditionally been sympathetic to the aims and goals of the rehabilitation program for inmates in our penal institutions." "We do not believe, however, that a complete take-over of our industry by CCI will serve these aims and goals."

Fishing Not Limited Occupation Nowadays

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Representing The Accused

When a person is arrested he needs a lawyer at once. California law gives him the right to complete one phone call as soon as he is booked. An officer who refuses to allow a lawyer to see the accused who calls him commits a misdemeanor.

Under due process, the U. S. Supreme Court says, a person must have proper legal representation if he wants it. Failure to provide it in any case violates the Constitution, especially when it results in an unfair trial.

California gives aid to those accused of a crime who cannot afford a lawyer. Most large counties have a public defender, and the courts in smaller counties name lawyers for the accused where he is too poor to pay.

One's right to counsel applies when arrested and questioned by the police or when arraigned before a judge, often weeks before trial. It is well to get a lawyer early so that he can prepare an adequate defense.

The accused has the right to counsel in misdemeanor cases in a municipal or justice court "at each and every stage of the proceedings" until it dismisses or sentences him. In many such cases the accused who does not ask for a lawyer is said to have waived his right to counsel.

When a case is appealed, the accused can often get legal counsel even if he cannot afford it. The court may name a lawyer to prepare and complete his appeal. The convicted person may have a free copy of the trial trarnscript and of papers necessary to appeal to a higher court.

In the larger counties, the public defender's office hires investigator's to help its lawyers prepare a case. Afterwards, the public defender may decide to ask that the charge be dismissed or he may decide to try the case or recommend to the accused that he plead guilty and ask for probation.

For the administration of the criminal laws the rich and poor alike need and may have legal counsel.

NOTE: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

North Carolina Going 'Wetter'

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — North Carolina, which operates a state-owned system of liquor stores on a county-municipal option basis, is getting steadily "wetter."

Counties and cities can hold referenda for or against having liquor stores. Through September, the state held 22 referenda in 1967. The proposition to have liquor stores carried in 12 and failed in 10. This brought to 45 the number of counties having liquor stores throughout the county.

Fifty cities have stores in otherwise dry counties. In all, liquor is sold in 75 of the state's 100 counties.

Portugal Plans Curb On Campers

LISBON (AP) — Portugal is attempting to dissuade campers from setting up temporary housekeeping in areas not officially designated camping areas.

A new law forbids "collective camping" anywhere outside camping or tourist parks for more than three days. Collective camping is defined as more than three tents, campers' trucks or trailers.

The rolling, wooded hills of Portugal are a great holiday attraction for foreign tourists, many of them campers. Camping is also popular with many Portuguese working men on vacation with their families.

The country has a large number of officially designated sites, but campers often complain these are too crowded.

Twins Pick College For Unusual Reason

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A set of twins who are freshmen at the University of Corpus Christi may have the most unusual reason yet for selecting a college: their father designed the dormitory they live in.

The boys, John and James Tucker, are sons of H. Arthur Tucker of Tulsa, Okla. He is chief architect of Tandy Industries Inc., the construction arm of CIT Educational Buildings Inc., which provided the university with a new, 144-bed dormitory for the start of the school year. They decided to enroll at UCC because of its business courses, recreational advantages and that dormitory that Dad designed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Mother-To-Baby Emotional Ties Found Hard To Evaluate

VAN DELLEN

The emotional relationship between a mother and her baby is difficult to evaluate, Dr. Bernard Gampel of London tried to do this by observing the behavior of mothers during their babies' first examination in the welfare clinic.

He devised a method by which he was able to group their reactions into four categories: Some mothers went with the baby to the examination table; many watched the whole examination but remained seated; others turned only occasionally to have a look.

The remainder sat, apparently unconcerned, with their backs to the baby and doctor.

NEW MOTHERS took more interest in the examination than those with two or more children. West Indian mothers paid less attention than those of English or Irish stock.

Beyond this there was no correlation between age, marital status, ethnic origin of the mother, and her closeness to the child. The English medico found no objective evidence of "belonging" or "warmth of maternal feeling."

We mention the negative aspect of this study because it is widely believed that the emotional relationship between mother and baby has an important influence upon the development of the child's behavior.

THIS IS plausible but difficult to substantiate. Dr. Gampel's research is one of many attempts that also failed in this regard. His findings, however, are interesting and may trigger additional investigation.

In a study conducted at the primate laboratory of the University of Wisconsin, researchers found that maternal affection developed not so much from nursing, but from being next to something warm. The "something warm" used in the above mentioned study was a doll made of terry cloth.

All primates used in this study were orphaned and each gained more weight than monkeys living with their mothers.

HOW LARGE IS LIVER?

P. P. writes: How big is the liver?

REPLY

The liver, the largest organ in the body, weighs slightly more than one-fourth pound at birth, two pounds at puberty, and five and one-half pounds in the healthy adult. The structure weighs less in women than in men and tends to decrease in size with age.

NERVOUS HEARTBURN

H. S. writes: Why does nervousness cause heartburn?

REPLY

Because the gastric secretions and the motility of the stomach are controlled by the autonomic nervous system. Heartburn stems from a slight regurgitation of the acid contents into the esophagus (gullet).

STUBBED TOE

H. M. writes: I stubbed my toe on a rock and don't know what to do about it. What is the best treatment?

REPLY

A stubbed toe usually needs no treatment except warm foot baths. The shoe offers excellent support. X-ray may be needed to determine whether the bone has been broken.

ORTHODONTICS AND AGE

A. S. K. writes: Can adults have their teeth straghtened?

REPLY

Yes. It is never too late but unfortunate if treatment at an early age would have improved appearance and personality.

GIDDINESS

C. S. writes: Is vertigo the same as dizziness?

REPLY

Yes.

Marcos Emerges With Key Philippine Senate Seats

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos appeared assured today of the control of the Philippine Senate needed to provide firm ground for his 1969 re-election campaign.

With more than half the votes in Tuesday's off-year elections counted, Marcos' Nacionalista party was ahead in six of the eight Senate races. The president needed that many more seatsi nthe 24-member Senate to assure passage of the economic programs on which he expects to campaign.

Ex-Gov. Benigno Aquino, an outspoken Liberal party critic of Marcos, led all senatorial vote-getters, however.

Mrs. Magnolia Antonio, an independent riding a wave of sympathy, also seemed certain of election. She substituted for her husband who died in a helicopter crash less than 24 hours before balloting started.

Nacionalistas also ran up substantial leads in provincial and municipal elections. In 65 governorship races, they were ahead in 41. Liberals led in 13 and independents in three.

Manila gave the Liberals their only other major victory. Mayor Antonio Villegas, a critic of Marcos with anti-America leanings, trounced the president's handpicked candidate, Pablo Ocampo, by 50,000 votes.

The traditional violence that surrounds Philippine politics brought death to 60 persons since the start of campaigning early this year, the national police reported. Despite nine election-day killings, the police called the balloting "generally peaceful." The Philippine News Service reported 107 political killings for the year and said more than 30 persons were slain on election day.

State To Reduce Funds In Bank

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A board of state investment experts has decided to reduce the money the state keeps in banks from $45 million to $42.6 million.

The pooled money investment board, which includes State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy and Gordon P. Smith, state director of finance, voted to make the $2.4 million decrease.

The state maintains the balance in 10 despository banks in return for service provided the state by the banks. The reduction in the total makes the $2.4 million available for investment and drawing of interest for the state.

TV REVIEW

Cast Keeps 'Dial M' On Steady Beam

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Two adaptations of well-known plays —"Dial M for Murder" and "Androcles and the Lion"— occupied three and one-half hours of network televsion's prime time last night.

It was, in effect, another "double feature" for the video audience—and further evidence of television's trend toward longer programs to hold the attention of viewers.

'DIAL M'

"Dial M for Murder," a two-hour production on ABC-TV, is of course, the ingenious thriller using one of literature's most captivating themes: The attempted murder of a wife by her husband.

And last night version was played to the hilt by a cast — Laurence Harvey, Diane Cilento, Hugh O'Brian and Cyril Cusack—that retained most of the tingles. The director, John Moxey, did a dandy job on this London-taped presentation.

Harvey, as the husband who blackmails a drifter into an elaborate plot to kill his wife, was right on target. So was Miss Cilento as the wife who upsets things by killing the drifter and is accused of murdering him. O'Brian, as a mystery writer who loves the wife—and of whom Harvey is jealous—was adequate in the least demanding role.

STEALS SHOW

It was, however, Cusack, as the inspector who quietly and insinuatingly unravels the crime, who stole the show.

Unfortunately, Bernard Shaw was not around to adapt his "Androcles and the Lion" for NBC-TV's 90-minute musical version, which featured a score by Richard Rodgers. As it was, the show was uneven, pleasant enough at times, but seemingly overladen with talent that didn't have much to do. Not until Noel Coward arrived as Caesar, well into the play, was there much sense of style.

SOME STYLE

Coward restored a sense of order with a catchy ditty called "The Emperor's Thumb," one of several amusing Rodgers songs. Ed Ames was also strong as the brutish but kind Christian who finds it difficult to turn the other cheek. As Androcles, the meek Christian who takes a thorn from a lion's paw in the woods—and then meets the beast again in the Roman arena, where his life is spared — Norman Wisdom was amiable, but he has been better.

What the show lacked above all was a sense of organization that is brought about only by a firm directorial hand.

On another front last night, NBC-TV finally confirmed that "The man from U.N.C.L.E." will be canceled in January. It will be replaced Jan. 22 by "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in," a variety hour. In addition "The Saint" will return Feb. 24, and a daytime game show, "The Hollywood Squares," starts in prime time Jan. 12.

At ABC-TV, meanwhile, the network had to postpone tonight's Carol Channing special and Sunday's Debbie Reynolds hour because of a labor dispute.

Bagley Criticized As 'A Better Democrat'

Assemblyman William T. Bagley "is a better Democrat than a Republican," a member of Marin County Young Republicans charged Tuesday night.

Clay Barham, executive secretary to William Penn Patrick, unsuccessful conservative candidate for governor last year, said analysis of the San Rafael legislator's voting record showed it was "equivalent to Jesse Unruh's." Unruh is the Democratic leader of the Assembly.

The analysis of Bagley's voting record, Barham said, was compiled by Dr. Warren Carroll, administrative assistant to Sen John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin. Schmitz is the only avowed member of the John Birch Society in the legislature.

Barham attacked Bagley in a meeting of the Young Republicans at the county courthouse. Bagley was invited to debate his record with Barham, but refused, saying the group was not an official Republican organization.

Criticizing Bagley for opposing Proposition 14 and supporting the Rumford Fair Housing Act, Barham said a "good Republican Assemblyman should vote against bills that pre-empt the citizen's control over his own property, and yes on any bill to give back this control."

Barham noted that Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, "votes with the bulk of the Republican senators."

Native Dancer Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Native Dancer, thoroughbred horse racing's Big Gray who counted the Preakness and Belmont Stakes among his 21 victories in 22 starts during a spectacular three-year career, died today following an operation for a blocked intestine.

The Marlyland-bred horse, owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York, died at the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Hospital about 5:15 a.m.

TUMOR

Veterinary surgeons discovered a tumor had choked off about 10 feet of small intestine. The tumor and the damaged intestine were removed during a 2½-hour operation that ended about midnight.

Native Dancer won $785,240 during his career. He was retired to stud at Sagamore Farms, near Baltimore in 1954. His $20,000 stud fee was the highest in the world for a privately owned stallion.

His offspring—which include Kauai King, 1966 Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner—have won over $4 million up to this year.

Only once in his life—he was 7-5 in his first start as a 2-year-old—did the son of Polynesian-Geisha go off at more than even money. Three times he was a 1-20 favorite.

While winning the 2-year-old championship, Native Dancer became racing's first television star because his light coat made him show up on the television screen.

In his loss to Dark Star, the Big Gray got bunched in the pack early in the race and was unable to work his way out until late in the race. He made a game stretch drive but came up short at the wire.

AGE 17

Denied the first jewel of racing's Triple Crown, Native Dancer came back to win the final two events, the Belmont Stakes and the Preakness.

Native Dancer, who was 17 at his death, exercised in his private paddock at Sagamore until he fell ill Tuesday.

Speedy Football In L. A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California and UCLA each boast two of the fastest men in collegiate football for their nationally televised showdown battle Saturday.

O. J. Simpson and Earl McCullouch of the Trojans are track stars. So are Ron Copeland and Harold Busby of the Uclans.

LOAD CANNON

"When he goes down for a pass, you just drop back for time to load the cannon," says UCLA quarterback Gary Beban who hooked up with Copeland for a 69-yard gainer on the Bruins' first offensive play last Saturday against Washington.

Copeland never played football before this season although he has the size at 6 feet 4 and 193 pounds. He simply has been too busy with track and basketball.

He showed up at the football field the week before UCLA's opener against Tennessee. Nobody paid too much attention.

"The Monday after that game he started running pass patterns," recalls Coach Tommy Prothro, "and went on from there."

Copeland saw action against Stanford on Oct. 21 and hadn't caught a pass until that opening play against Washington which started the Bruins to their resounding 48-0 victory and the No. 1 spot in collegiate rankings with a 7-0-1 record.

Simpson, McCullouch and Busby are no newcomers to football.

O. J. leads the nation in rushing with 1,238 yards in the eight games he's played, and McCullouch, co-holder of the world record for the high hurdles, leads the Trojans in pass receiving with 27 for 504 yards and five touchdowns as USC won eight and lost only last Saturday to Oregon State 3-0.

Earl, who debates going into pro football or competing in the 1968 Olympics, switches positions for this game to fill in for the injured Jim Lawrence. A 9.4 sprinter himself, Lawrence was hurt last week so McCullouch moves from split end to flanker.

FLANKER

Busby, who has run the hurdles in 13.4, rates as the No. 2 UCLA receiver with 15 catches for 220 yards. He goes at flanker in the Bruins' attack.

If there is any doubt of speed, look at the track records. Copeland and Busby ran on the UCLA 440-yard relay team which last spring tied the world record at 39.4 seconds.

Then along came a Trojan quartet with Simpson and McCullouch included to run a 38.6 eclipsing the record.

A Letter From An Old Friend: The Bullpenner

THE BULLPEN—Ah, the postman cometh with an always-welcome missive from my ol' fran, John J. Connolly.

You remember, certainly. He authored the I-J's Bullpen column for several years, needling the Giants out of their cotton-pickin' minds.

Well, a couple of semesters ago John J. drifted south and latched onto a public relations job with the California Angels in Anaheim. Would you believe Connolly in Disneyland?!! If you know him, that's something akin to Farms in BERKELEY??? Or Skyscrapers in TOCALOMA??

JOHN J. CONNOLLY

John's letter contained some info on the Athletics moving to Oakland, to wit:

"Don't sell the American League short. It has the talent, even in the home run department, so often played down by statistics and National League writers. The reason is quite understandable: American League managers play a different style of baseball. They play for the one run instead of a bundle of runs, like the National Leaguers do. But I think from now on they'll instruct the American Leaguers to go for the long ball. Fellows like Jim Fregosi of the Angels and George Scott of the Red Sox are potential homer hitters whose batting style has been altered to boost their batting averages. In the A.L., high batting averages mean more pay. In the N.L. they pay for the long ball.

Athletics' Natural Rivalry

"One of the big features Oakland has brought to the American League is a natural rivalry between their Athletics and the Cal Angels. And the reason for the rivalry is because your old neighborhood friend, Bill Rigney of Walnut Creek, the Angels' manager, is a big drawing card in Oakland. They always liked Bill there and I'm sure he will be well-remembered by a lot of baseball fans.

"And put this in your bonnet: Francis 'Lefty' O'Doul will soon follow his podner, Joe DiMaggio, to the Athletics' entourage in Oakland. He's a natural because he and DiMaggio think alike, talk alike and make a great team.

"O'Doul taught DiMaggio how to hit and Joe will be the first to admit it. And Lefty still knows baseball. Recently Casey Stengel of the old Yanks and Mets told me, 'That feller O'Doul knows baseball from A to Z.'

My, How Oakland's Grown

"Having been a sports editor in Oakland yars and yars ago, I still can't imagine how that place has grown. The early failure of the Golden Gate race track prompted me to write them that Oakland just wasn't a big league town. But since then I've found out politics and not sports fans brought about that calamity.

"I'm sure many Marin County sports fans will enjoy American League baseball. There isn't much difference between driving to Oakland and driving to Candlestick Park.

"Give everyone up there in Marvelous Marin my very best wishes."

A'S Debut Against Orioles

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics will open their American League baseball season in the Oakland Coliseum Wednesday night, April 17 against the 1966 champion Baltimore Orioles.

Owner Charles O. Finley plans to make it a spectacular and will have as an added attraction a home town boy who really made Good—Frank Robinson who was the A.L.'s triple crown winner and Most Valuable Player of 1966.

The California Angels, with whom the Athletics hope to work up an intense rivalry, make their Oakland debut Friday night, May 31—immediately following a four-game series in the 50,000-seat Coliseum, between the Athletics and the A.L. champion Boston Red Sox.

Boston will bring another Bay Area favorite, pitching star Jim Lonborg from Stanford, and Carl Yastrzemski, the 1967 American League MVP.

The New York Yankees will come April 22 for a three-game series.

NEW TIMES

Finley revised his night game starting time from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Day games are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. and Saturday twilighters at 6 p.m.

The 81 games include four doubleheaders, three of them twinighters, and 60 games at night. There will be 12 games on Saturdays and 12 on Sundays. The Athletics have two holidays at home, Memorial Day against Boston and Labor Day against Detroit.

No Russell, But Celtics Tip Warriors

BOSTON (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors were given an assist by a giant eastern snow storm last night but still fell before the Boston Celtics 113-110 despite a hot final period.

Boston vaulted into first place of the NBA's Eastern Division, half a game ahead of Philadelphia which lost to Detroit. The Warriors (11-7) had a chance to gain on idle St. Louis (16-2) in the Western Division but instead fell five games behind the Hawks to third place. Los Angeles took over second.

Player-coach Bill Russell of the Celtics missed the game after being stranded in a massive traffic jam caused by a sneak snowfall. However, Bailey Howell took over for Russell and led the Celtics with 27 points.

San Francisco was behind by 10 points at intermission and also entering the fourth period. The Warriors finished strong and trailed 110-107 with two minutes remaining. But three free throws by Boston put the game out of reach.

The Warriors outscored the Celtics 32-25 in the final period. San Francisco was hurt when it lost Rudy LaRusso who bucketed 30 points before he fouled out late in the fourth period.

Spidery Nate Thurmond, a demon on the backboards, tallied 22 points and Jim King added 18 for the Warriors who play the Chicago Bulls tomorrow night at the Oakland Arena.

SEALED OFF—Los Angeles goalie Terry Sawchuck (30) stops shot by Oakland Seals center Mike Laughton (22) in first period National Hockey League action at Oakland last night. Seals scored a few seconds later and went on to post a 4-1 victory, snapping the team's 14-game winless streak. (AP Wirephoto)

Top Prep Runners To Compete

Marin County Athletic League cross-country teams will compete against some of the top runners in Northern California in the North Coast Division III meet at Fort Cronkhite tomorrow afternoon.

Redwood, third-place finisher in the MCAL meet last week, will host the meet which begins at 3 p.m. There will be varsity and frosh-soph competition.

The frosh-soph meet will start at 3 o'clock, to be followed by the varsity meet. It will be a 12-team field that will include MCAL meet champ Novato.

Seals Finally Triumph

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals face the Detroit Red Wings at the Oakland Arena tonight at 8 o'clock fresh from a 4-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Kings.

The Seals, snapping a 14-game winless streak — longest in National Hockey League history — overcame a 1-0 lead in the first period with a 25-foot Larry Cahan slap shot after the Kings registered first when Kerry Gray intercepted George Swarbrick's wild pass and tallied unassisted at 4:57.

RECOUPED

Swarbrick recouped two and a half minutes later by scoring his eighth goal of the season. Then Charlie Burns made it 3-1 at 8:04 in the second period with a rebound shot off the left pipe.

The game appeared wrapped up 29 seconds before the end when Kings coach Red Kelly pulled goalie Terry Sawchuk for a sixth forward to tighten the game and Seal defenseman Aut Erickson telegraphed the puck 125 into the empty net to make the score 4-1.

First period—1, Los Angeles, Gray 2, 4:57. 2, Oakland, Cahan 2 (Bover, Ehman) 5:36. 3, Oakland, Swarbrick 8 (Laughton, Douglas) 8:06. Penalties—Swarbrick 11:45; Cahan 12:56.

Psycho Warfare Begins

College of Marin Tars, seeking to become the school' first undisputed football champions since 1941, may meet an aroused squad of Santa Rosa Bear Cubs in their annual clash tomorrow night at Santa Rosa.

Santa Rosa Press-Democrat this week has published stores designed to inspire the underdog Bear Cubs to great heights against the high-scoring Mariners of Coach Dick Read.

Yesterday's edition carried a story titled "Marin 11 Feeling Its Oats" and went on to describe the Tars as "flying high" and "acting big for their britches. Maybe 'cocky' is the word."

INTERVIEW

The story quoted an interview between a P-D reporter and Marin assistant coach John Panagakis.

"Santa Rosa? Oh, that's that town up north." Panagakis was quoted as saying. "Don't we play you?" he asked.

The P-D continued. "The impression from the Marin County campus is that this year's Big Game is tantamount to an automatic win for the Tars who have already posted a super, 7-1 season record and have already sewed up the Golden Valley Conference championship with a 5-0 record.

"This year the Tars have to be the overwhelming favorite. . .

LESSON

"As self-confident as Marin is, one lesson — taught them in 1966 — seems lost already. That was that even the lowly Bear Cubs, who are down to a 2-4-2 record overall and 1-4 in league now, ended and otherwise gloomy 1966 season by upending Marin, 16-14.

"Lightning does strike twice."

Tuesday's P-D started the ball rolling with a nine-column spread headed "Mission: Impossible — Stop Marin Tars."

The story said the game shapes up as "The haves and the 'have-nots'" and went on to

Unusual Golf Tournament For Pros Gets Underway

LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Just to make things lively, members of the Professional Golfers Association were scheduled to play in an unusual kind of golf tournament beginning today.

It is called the Haig Scotch Foursome International Golf Tournament and it's like no other pro golf tourney.

Teams of two partners go out on the course with each man hitting a tee shot. Then they will decide between them which of the two balls they wish to play.

Then they take alternate shots until the ball is holed out.

It makes the usual match play or even medal play apparently dull and lifeless. The Haig Scotch may not determine a pro golfer of the year, but it figures to be exciting.

Billy Casper, who won the pro-am portion of the $115,000 tourney Tuesday, was one of the favorites to take top honors with his partner, Don Collett.

Gold, Not Glory, Spurs Bill Vukovich To Race

There is a spot on the wall of the backstretch at Indianapolis where Billy Vukovich crashed and was killed on May 30, 1955. The accident almost foundered auto racing.

It didn't, though, because on next Memorial Day, if all goes according to plan, Billy Vukovich will again be floor boarding an Agajanian-Brabham Special past that very spot in search of a third Indianapolis victory for Billy Vukovich.

THIS BILLY VUKOVICH was only 11 years old when the yellow light went on at Indy that hot day in '55. His father, at the time, had dominated Indy as few drivers have, before or since. On the spoor of an unprecedented third victory in a row, he had cut through the field from the second row like a shark through a school of smelts. He was comfortably ahead, and $7,500 to the good, when he flew into the backstretch on the 56th lap. Rodger Ward broke an axle in front of him. Johnny Boyd and Al Keller joined the accident. Vukovuch joined the other three dozen who had gotten the black flag from an invisible steward in the track's history.

THE DEATH of Vukovich caused more of an uproar than the death of an 11th row rookie might have. The sponsoring Automobile Assn. of America dropped its stewardship of racing (the United States Auto Club took up the slack), safety measures were overhauled, and, because two spectators were hurt when Vukie flipped, other safety agencies pried into the matter. No one thought to put in a clause seeing to it that sons and heirs of Indy victims be barred from the grid. That's why, for the first time in 13 years, there will be a Vukovich at Indy next May trying for that third family victory.

THE FIRST and obvious question: Why? There used to be scenes in old dramas where the old miner would take off his hat and feed his canary and vow, "No son of mine is ever going to have to go down in those mines. Now get the money out of the mattress, Mama, and send that boy to Notre Dame." Or, a broken old immigrant on a sunbaked road bed would lay down his sledge hammer and tell his crew proudly, "Someday, a kid of mine is going to ride over this track in a parlor car, smoking cigars and playing cards with the president of the line."

BILLY VUKOVICH'S son, it would appear, is going to go down the same mine shaft, is going to walk the tracks as his father did.

Young Billy, a handsome, washboard-waisted young man of 23, laughs at the inevitable question.

"Why? For money," he says simply. "It's not in my blood, it's in my pocketbook."

His widowed mother objected, his wife frowned, the auto racing fraternity shook its collective head — but Billy is going to climb the walls like his Daddy used to do.

HE WENT to Indy last August for the grueling drivers' test — 10 laps at 140 miles an hour, 10 at 145, 10 at 150, and 10 at 155 (without tachometer or speedometer) — and came out of it like a, well like a Vukovich. "The funny part of it is you'd swear he was born to be a race driver," the stewards told the automotive press.

THERE IS STILL a third Billy Vukovich, aged 4. If his father's plans materialize in dollars and sense, he will never have to ride anyplace but in a back seat, and instead of "Gentlemen, start your engines," it will be "Home, James," for him. And the Fresno-based Vukovich family saga from picking the grapes to drinking the champagne in one generation will just have been postponed one generation, is all.

Tart Plays, But Oaks Still Lose To Pacers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Oakland Oaks go against Kentucky tonight after dropping another American Basketball Association game to league-leading Indiana 119-110 last night.

The Oaks tied the score at 37-37 with four minutes left in the half, but three quick baskets left the Pacers with a 49-41 intermission margin.

Indiana was never headed after that despite Oakland's brilliant 44-point last quarter paced by Levern Tart. He was top scorer in the game with 25 points — 18 of them in the second half.

INJUNCTION

Tart, leading the league with a 29.4 point average, didn't play Tuesday night against Pittsburgh because of a temporary injunction issued by an Alleghany County, Pa., common pleas court.

The order barred Tart from playing for the Oaks, but Oakland Coach Bruce Hale said he played Tart against Indiana because he felt the injunction was effective only in Pennsylvania.

The court action resulted from a complaint by the Wilkes-Barre Barons of the Eastern League. Tart had played for them last year and the team contended its contract had an option clause covering this season.

praise the Tars to the limit.

Apprised of the Santa Rosa stories, Marin Coach Dick Read said:

"No, we're really not cocky. I was a little concerned with our attitude Monday, but yesterday we had a good practice and the kids look like they're ready to go. They hit hard in scrimmage and we almost had two fights break out. They're getting feisty. I'll put those Santa Rosa stories up on our bulletin board. That should put our kids in a mean frame of mind."

A Discouraging Hunting Trip To Nebraska; Bass Are Hitting

STEVENS

"All is not gold that glitters!" And at least three local shotgunners will attest to the truth of that maxim.

Certainly, what had seemed a golden opportunity to bag a lot of ringneck pheasants in Nebraska didn't glitter at all. As one of the trio expressed it (name withheld by request): "We had saved our nickles and dimes to pay the way, arranged to be on our annual vacation at work, and set out gaily for a once-in-a-lifetime shoot. We had it doped out that by shipping a couple daily limits we could head for home with the very generous limit of pheasants, but in three days of tramping the fields in the northeast section of Nebraska, we averaged only one and one-half cocks each.

"WE STILL HAD three days left to hunt, so shifted to the southwest part of the state. We did a little better there but it was tough going and the birds were well hidden. At any rate, the trip was a washout. We will see how we come out here in California. It couldn't be much worse, and maybe it will be a lot better."

So that's the sad tale of a pheasant shoot in another state. A late release from Lincoln, Neb., says pheasant hunting in the "panhandle area" came up to all claims, so some of our eager hunters may have fared much better.

AS STATED IN Tuesday's column, the fall-winter run of striped bass in the upper San Pablo Bay apparently came up to expectations. From Buck's Landing at Santa Venetia, the weekend was reported only fair due to inclement weather and choppy water, but the Monday score was good. Best bet seems to have been on the shallow clam banks out from China Camp. Joe Mello and wife fished that locale on Monday and returned to the landing with six beautiful bass of 20 pounds each. Only a very few sturgeon were taken and no flounders.

I asked about duck hunting in the area and was told that the gunners who stuck around until late in the evening had fair to good success. Not much doing in the morning or midday. Mostly greater scaups (Northern blues, we call them), a few mallards and some sprigs were downed.

CHECKING WITH Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett, the boats (mainly the Dowrelio No. 5) did fairly well on Sunday — fish were from keeper size to lunkers over 30 pounds. On Monday, the Dowrelio No. 5 netted eight stripers to 26 pounds. Best bait was bullheads with second choice shrimps. Most action was had in the Bpoy 10 locals.

Several anglers reported up to 10 "runs" with nary a bass landed. It is suggested that when the fish are hitting very lightly, tactics should be changed. Ordinarily, it is a case of allowing a bass to hit at least twice before butting (giving the fish a chance to swallow the baits) but when there are plenty of runs and few if any fish hooked, try smaller hooks, very sharp, and allowing time only to have the line tauten — then rear back and set the hook.

Another Grid Season Over For Veteran Time Keeper

By RALPH CHATOIAN

"I went over to San Rafael High to watch a football game and they needed a timer. So I said I would try."

That was 36 years ago and that same man — Horace Robert Ghilotti — is the one you can see at all San Rafael High School home games manning the scoreboard clock.

Who? Horace Robert?

"I've been called Rusty all my life," says the 56-year-old, gray-haired Ghilotti. "It even says H. Rusty on my high school diploma."

MARIN NATIVE

An assistant construction superintendent with the Marin Municipal Water District, Ghilotti is a home grown San Rafael resident. "I was born in the old North Shore Hotel at Third and A Streets," declares Rusty. "Where Zip's Drive-In now is."

He went to San Rafael High School a year, but then finished his prep school days at St. Mary's College High School in Berkeley.

A center and linebacker, Rusty was named to the All-North Bay League football team in 1929 when he went to San Rafael High.

"I played football at St. Mary's too," Ghilotti said. "With Al Tognoli, the late Sid Ahern and Eddie Erdelatz. It was quite a group," he laughed.

After graduation in 1931 Rusty started his career with the MMWD. It was during that same year that he wandered over to San Rafael High to "watch" a game.

RUSTY GHILOTTI
Scoreboard man

Ron Snidow and Kent Francisco are among the top players Ghilotti saw during their prep heyday at San Rafael High. Snidow is now a defensive tackle with the Washington Redskins and Francisco went on to honorable mention All-American stardom at UCLA.

Three San Rafael High School teams stand out in Ghilotti's remembrance of the last 36 years of football. One is the North Bay champion team of 1937, coached by Cy Londahl, and the others are the 1956 and '57 teams.

"I watch some of the kids playing today and remember that I saw their fathers playing," Rusty said. One is Herb Rowland, quarterback for the Bulldogs. "I went to school with Herb's dad."

What's the hardest thing about being the time keeper at football games?

"Keeping your eyes on the officials' signals," says Rusty. "We have to depend on the officials to signal when to stop and start the clock. I would say the officiating has been good, very good, through the years."

Ghilotti's newest venture is being a member of the San Rafael Fire Commission. He was appointed on the commission June 19 to fill a vacancy left by Fire Chief Vance Trivett, who had to leave the commission post because of a revision in the San Rafael City Charter. He is also a former member of the Ross Hospital board.

Rusty and his wife, Ruth, have three children, Mrs. Tyler Andersen of Palo Alto, Larry, 27, and Ruth Gail, 17. The family home is at 18 Dunfries Terrace, San Rafael.

Blackwell Tops Prep Rushers

There are not too many differences between the season and the league football statistics for the Marin County Athletic League except that the numbers are bigger all around.

One significant difference is that Redwood speed demon Larry Blackwell is the top rusher on a seasonal basis, coming up with 582 yards.

The second-best runner isn't even in the league. That's Marin Catholic's Jim Finnegan who has 537.

PREP NOTES

Contrast Of Co-Champs

By GARY TISCHLER

Take a look at the records. Eight wins, one loss — five wins four losses.

They're both championship football records.

They belong to Terra Linda and Drake high schools, respectively, both co-champions of the Marin County Athletic League for the second straight year.

They belong to teams as different as night and day.

TERRA LINDA for the last two years has lost only three games and has not given up very many points under the tutelage of two different head coaches. But it has not beaten the Drake Pirates nor scored against them in that period of time.

For the record, the Trojans have rolled up a 17-3 record in that two year span, marked by a 351-74 scoring advantage and 10 shutouts. In league play, the advantage is even more decisive. It comes out 9-2, record-wise, 339-34, six shutouts, including this year's fantastic record of going through league play without allowing a touchdown.

There is something brutally single-minded about a Terra Linda team.

THEY HIT, hit, hit. There are usually a lot of pitchouts, not too much passing, quick hits inside on offense. The backs are almost faceless, churning numbers who have one thing in common — they run hard and are not easily brought down. This year, they were boys like Rod Powell, Keith Stirling, Jim McInnis, Mark Buckley, Mike Sager, Dave Edson, Jerry Goodrick, John Dohn, a seemingly endless flow of feet.

The line usually is not big. Last year, they tended to be built close to the ground, this year they were lean 190-pounders like Bill Saleme, Larry Collins, Megs Meier, John Weekley, Mike Skeen, Greg Barker.

If the Trojans have superstars, it is a linebacker. Last year, it was Jim Sherbert. This year it was Rod Powell and Dane Larsen. Their numbers you remember, and the way they hit.

AND OF COURSE, there is Bruce Kilby, about whom there is not enough to say, except that a better defensive end hasn't been seen in the league in a long while.

There is one thing that won't show in the record-books years from now. The Trojans — and you can see this up close from the sidelines, next to a huddle — and their coaches play this game of football with passion. This is the old school flag, and the band, a game of war, and chants. Touchdowns by the enemy are insults. The rooters flinch in admiration when a good hit is made. It is something they have come to expect. Being best has become a tradition that has been stoked by emotions and by cold record. It will probably not stop, no matter who wears the uniform.

The Drake Pirates are something else.

THE PIRATES look like a 5-4 team or a 6-3 team. Their uniforms are not particularly flashy. They have a used look about them. Sometimes, the Pirates even blow a game they're supposed to win. But very rarely a game they need to win.

About that record. Those losses have come against the best, and could have been victories, just as well. The Pirates have been nurtured on a diet of tough meat. They have not choked on it.

Going from week to week, you can never tell what they'll do. A team that couldn't score a touchdown for three games on offense suddenly erupts for 66 points in two games.

IT IS A MATTER of rising to the occasion to fit a particular need.

Against Terra Linda, it has always been a matter of beating the Trojans at their own game — defense. The Trojans have yet to score against the Pirates, yet teams with lesser offenses have managed that trick pretty well.

It was 19-0 last year, 2-0 this year.

Even the players do not look like ready-made talent. The key ones this year — Don Stone, Don Alvarado and Perry Hedim, to name the most impressive trio — don't look like ready-made football players.

Stone, the third best rusher in the league, runs as if he's walking. He started out by throwing a lot of interceptions and incompletions. And he ran Redwood silly and almost single-handedly helped beat Tam in the game that clinched a co-title for Drake.

ALVARADO'S statistics won't get him to the head of the class. He doesn't even walk cockily, which he should. But he will beat you, one way or another. With that extra yard, a blazing long yardage return, a key tackle or an interception — he'll beat you.

That's the Pirates. We've never heard coach Bob Franceschini say exactly what they would do on a given week. Nobody knows. More than likely though, they do what has to be done, even if it takes a whole ballgame.

FROSH, JAYVEE FOOTBALL

... And The Rich Get Richer

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Two past and present football kings — Drake and Terra Linda high schools, who have tied for the last two Marin County Athletic League championships — loom as strong as ever in the future, judging from recently completed junior varsity and freshmen seasons.

Terra Linda's jayvees won the "mythical" Marin crown with a 7-0 record, 4-0 against league rivals. Quarterback Tom Jackson and running backs Tom Daniele and Jim Guthrie were the top offensive performers for Coach Joe Brighenti's Junior Trojans, while linebackers Joe Rowell, John Wilson and Jim Miller and back Mike Bridges upheld the school's traditionally stiff defensive record.

Drake's jayvees were only 4-5 on the won-lost slate, but Coach Morris Shepherd said his club lost three games by a single Phil Simon and halfback John Woodhull were outstanding defenders.

San Rafael posted a 4-3 record with quarterback Bruce Nave, point and another by one touchdown and will provide the school's varsity with top flight material next year. Running backs Bob Sutherland and Paul Mahood and defensive men Ron Thomas, Kevin Peak and Al Shepheard were standouts.

Redwood posted a 3-1-1 record, beating Drake, Tamalpais and San Rafael, losting to Terra Linda and tying Novato. Quarterback Charley Flynn, tackle Rick Puccinelli and end Jeff McNulty sparked the Redwood offense while tackle tackles Chris Bonner and Tom Brown, guard Danny Jordan and defensive end Tom Donovan playing well.

On the freshmen front, Terra Linda and Drake, like their varsity brothers, shared county honors with identical 5-1-1 records. Terra Linda beat Drake but lost to Redwood, leading to the deadlock.

Drake standouts were offensive backs Jim Doningueze, John Loane and Rick Mason and defenders Jeff Allan at tackle and Demian Castelnuovo at linebacker.

Tam's frosh had a 3-2-1 record with fullback Billy Washington and linebacker Bill Rudolph in starring roles.

Why Not Start Mira Against Packers?

George Mira, the dissatisfied No. 2 quarterback of the 49ers, has started only four games in his four seasons with San Francisco. Two of them were against the Green Bay Packers and both resulted in victory.

Next Sunday in Green Bay the 49ers and Packers will meet for their only game of 1967. So what could be more logical than Mira being the starter? Mira's scrambling tactics always have given the Packers more defensive problems than John Brodie's operation from the pocket.

A starting assignment against Green Bay isn't going to change Mira's determination to play next season for a team that will put his talents to use on a regular basis. He has made his position very clear to the 49ers. Of course, all football fans know he is working out his option this year and will achieve free agent status May 1, 1968.

MIRA'S AMBITION to be a No. 1 quarterback is admirable. He just isn't happy on a bench. He expected to be Brodie's understudy for a reasonable period. He never thought the understudy job would last four years even though that is not an unreasonable period in pro football.

career with the Cleveland Browns during the championship era of Otto Graham was spent as Graham's understudy. Ratterman kept clipping championship coupons for his backup role just as Charlie Silvera clipped World Series coupons in his understudy job for Yogi Berra while the Yankees were winning one baseball championship after another.

PERHAPS MIRA'S feeling about his understudy role would be more tolerable if the 49ers had been winning championships these past years. But they still are seeking their first title and already have been virtually eliminated from the NFL Capitol Division race this year by the Baltimore Colts.

So even if Mira didn't have another good scrambling day against the Packers, no harm would be done by bolstering his competitive pride with a starting assignment. Indeed, it would be more than just a case of salving Mira's pride. It would be a sensible percentage ploy predicated on his past harassing performances against the Packers.

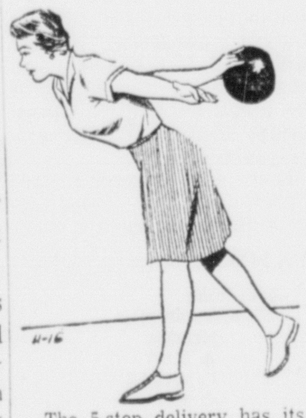

WHEN MIRA signed with the 49ers on Dec. 15, 1963, he was happy young man of 21 and said: "I'm glad to be with the 49ers. They treated me great. And I wanted to go to the National Football League because that's where the great players are."

Since then the American Football League has expanded and now has a team in Miami where Mira was a college hero. Naturally, Mira would like to become the No. 1 quarterback of the Miami Dolphins after his option expires with the 49ers.

AND THAT'S where Mira will wind up, in his home town, notwithstanding all that nonsensical speculation about the 49ers possibly trying to block an AFL club from dealing with Mira. The 49ers are not stupid. Neither is Mira. Far from it. He is a very smart fellow — and a determined one.

BOWLING TIPS

The 5-step delivery has its place, even though I suggest four steps for most women bowlers. Adding a fifth step will enable a person to build up speed, if that is one of the problems. In a practice session, start your delivery with a half-step with the right foot and gradually lengthen the steps before ending with a slide. Starting with a different foot will seem strange for a while, so some practice games will be necessary before using the delivery in league.

New Face Mask For 49er Crow

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—John David Crow will be wearing a lineman's cage mask when he plays for the San Francisco Forty Niners Sunday at Green Bay.

The sturdy running back suffered a painful cheek cut last weekend against Washington. He missed yesterday's drill with a cheek still bruised and swollen, but coach Jack Christiansen predicted Crow would be ready for the Packers. The lineman's face mask offers more protection than the two vertical bars on the helmets worn by backs.

A Low Diamond Finesse Saves The Day At Three Notrump Play

Dr. C. F. Crossley, an anesthesiologist, and Charles Gabriel, a management engineer with the E. G. & G. Corp., took second place two weeks ago in the annual International Rubber Bridge Tournament, winning a cash prize of $5,160.

Even for prosperous professional men this is good pay for a weekend of sport.

Since Dr. Crossley is used to knocking people out it didn't distress him to eliminate some world-famous experts during the four-day tournament at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas.

EAST CAPTURES

West led the six of spades, and East caputred dummy's king with the ace.

East returned the jack of clubs, and Crossley correctly decided that West was likely to hold either the ace or king.

Declarer therefore played a low club on East's jack.

West had to play the ace of clubs on the second club trick, and the suit was blocked.

If Crossley had put up the queen of clubs on East's jack, the defenders would have run five club tricks at once.

NOT HOME

Crossley had avoided disaster, but he was still not home.

He took the spade return, cashed his other spade, took the ace and king of hearts and then the ace and king of diamonds, dropping dummy's nine and ten.

East had followed to only two spades and two hearts.

Obviously, East held five clubs and four diamonds.

Dr. Crossley therefore led the deuce of diamonds from dummy and won a finesees in his own hand with the eight of diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 9
♦ J 7 6 4
♣ K J 9 8 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER? Bid three notrump. Since you have 9 points, the combined count must be 25 to 27 points. This should be enough for game at notrump, but is not likely to be enough for game in clubs or diamonds.

Lawbreakers Won't Obey It Anyway

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Mark one "no" vote against the city's new leash law. Casting the negative ballot is a pooch whose owner dutifully tied him up in the back yard.

Police said an unleashed dog took advantage of the situation. He ran into the yard, nipped the leashed animal and escaped with ease.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Electrical Heating Factory Opens In Central San Rafael

A new manufacturing business opened recently at 533 Irwin Street, San Rafael is Harver Industries, Inc.

The company, newly organized to manufacture electrical heating equipment for homes and commercial establishments, probably will not get into full production until after the first of the year, when it will start building up its payroll. The plant covers 17,000 square feet where the Tru-Star Laminated Plastics Corp. used to be located.

HAROLD D. WILDE of Tiburon is president of the firm. He was formerly president of Wesix Electric Heating in Burlingame. Virgil Bynum of San Jose is in charge of production.

A NEW WOMEN'S WEAR STORE — Elegant Ele — is scheduled to open Dec. 1 at 1403 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The principals, Mrs. Eleanor Bloom of Ignacio and Miss Pat Bali of Tiburon, have leased an old brown shingle residence and this is presently being remodeled by Mrs. Bloom's husband David, who is in the contracting business in San Francisco.

Mrs. Bloom has been in retailing for about 16 years. Miss Bali's background is in wholesaling — she was formerly with Jantzen, Inc.

THE CONTRACT for building Marin County Humane Society's new half-million dollar home at Ignacio has been awarded to Page Construction Co., Novato.

Weather permitting, work is scheduled to begin within another two weeks, with occupancy now projected for early summer next year. The complex was designed by Crawford and Banning, San Rafael.

THE LEGAL FIRM of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks has moved down one flight in the Albert Building, San Rafael, consolidating its offices in one suite of about a dozen rooms where Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. used to be on the second floor.

ANTIQUE ALLEY, since its opening several months ago, has grown and now takes up the entire building at 1012-1014 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael. New schedule calls for closing on Thursdays; hours through the rest of the week are from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. — and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

THE ROBERT MANEY AGENCY in San Rafael was winner in the October sales campaign of Mutual Benefit Life Isurance Co. The local office surpassed by 36 per cent its assigned quote for the month, topping the record of all of Mutual Benefit's 110 offices.

A DEMONSTRATION of winter hairstyling trends for professional stylists will be held Dec. 3 from 2 to 6 p.m. at the showrooms of Steve Liggett Beauty Supplies, San Rafael. Featured will be Roy Gackle, style director for Marinello School of Beauty. Tickets are available through the Steve Liggett office.

Agreement To Purchase Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Kaman Corp. said yesterday it had agreed to acquire Coast Wholesale Music Co. of Los Angeles and Coast Wholesale Music Co. San Francisco.

Kanman, a helicopter research firm which has a music division, said the acquisition involved an exchange of securities valued at about $3 million. It said that under the agreement it would exchange 75,000 shares of its preferred stock for all the outstanding stock of the music concerns. The Kaman preferred will be convertible into Kaman class A common on a share-for-share basis.

The transaction is subject to approval by Kaman's board of directors and "the appropriate regulatory authorities," the firm said.

Stocks Rally Late In Day, Close Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply higher today as a surprising rally in the final hour stopped a developing decline. Trading was heavy.

Big gains were made by leading growth stocks. IBM gained 16 points, Polaroid about 4 and Xerox 9.

Occidental Petroleum was an 8-point loser. In the over-all list, gains outnumbered losses by a wide margin.

The market rose from the start in a resumption of yesterday's technical rally. Prices softened, however, and there wasn't much left of the gain by midafternoon.

The rally was triggered by news that the New York Stock Exchange is planning to release short-interest figures after the close Friday instead of Monday, which would be the normal time.

Short sellers rushed to cover many issues in which there is a large short interest—shares borrowed and sold short in hopes that the "shorts" would profit by a market decline, enabling them to pay back the borrowed shares at lower prices than they sold them.

Closed-Door Meetings Ignore Principle Of Law

When a public governing body goes into closed session to discuss a matter on which the law permits barring the public, there is always the danger that other matters may also be resolved while the door is closed. But what of the board that closes the doors for matters that the law declares must be public?

This happens quite often in some Marin jurisdictions. Some of the boards act on advice of attorneys who fancy they have found loopholes in the state's open meeting law. Some close the doors without asking legal counsel.

THE LEGAL ADVICE some bodies get is questionable. For instance, as recently as last year the League of California Cities was advising its members that certain meetings could be closed on the basis of a 1960 court case — although the open meeting law was amended in 1961 specifically to close the loophole that case revealed.

On the other hand, some choose to ignore legal advice. The California Teachers Association last spring notified all school boards of court decisions and attorney general and legislative counsel opinions regarding the Brown Act (the open meeting law) and a similar section of the Education Code. This included warning that discussion of salaries and terms of employment must be public. But some school boards chose to ignore this.

How well boards heed the legal mandate "that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly" (these are the words of the law) may be gauged largely from their records.

HERE ARE SOME of the meetings in Marin County this year that have been closed to the public in the face of court decisions, attorney general's rulings, or at the very least strong questions as to the legality — to say nothing of public policy:

Mill Valley School District Board: Jan. 4, to discuss names of educators proposed for a committee to help select a superintendent, to discuss names for a committee for a bond issue, and to discuss selection of an architeet; Oct. 17, to discuss costs of the proposed middle school.

Reed School District Board: Jan. 12 and 31, to interview candidates for a vacancy on the board.

All school district boards: Meetings during February and March to "evaluate personnel."

Fairfax City Council: Two meetings in June, with no public notice, to discuss an architect for the proposed civic center; June 12, to interview candidates for appointment to the planning commission; July 7, to discuss "personnel policies."

Lagunitas School District Board: June 5, to receive land appraisals.

Novato City Council: July 11, to decide on whether to have a planning director; Aug. 22, again on planning director decision, and to appoint members to citizen committees.

Tiburon Planning Commission: July 5, to elect officers.

Ross Town Council: July 22, to discuss filling a council vacancy.

Larkspur City Council: July 25, to decide whether to hire a new finance officer.

Tomales High School District Board: Oct. 25, to discuss land purchase.

It seems that many public officials try to find ways to exclude the public from knowing what they are doing. This is contrary to the principles of democracy. It is also contrary to the law, which says: "The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know."

The voters are entitled to take officials to task for ignoring this.

Mail Fascination

Whenever we are absent from Marin County for more than a few days, it seems we return to find a bushel of mail has accumulated. It's not that we're so popular. It happens to everyone.

But finding a personal letter among all the advertising and assorted appeals and unsurpassable subscription bargains is a bit like finding a pearl in stewing oysters.

Junk mail is magnetic in its appeal. We lack the strength of character to dispose summarily of the stuff. Somehow we have the feeling that lurking inside those jaunty envelopes, clearly marked "bulk mail rate," might be the key to untold riches, round trip jet tickets for two to Babylon, or the secret of longevity. If not this time, maybe next month.

We must admit to a kind of perverse enjoyment of our overflowing mailbax, even if it contains only subscription bargains to "Insides: the Magazine for Hypochondriacs" and "Hairy: the Periodical for Masculine Men."

If at first we don't succeed . . .

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Must Win War, Not Merely Stay

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Johnson says we'll stay in Vietnam. He has yet to say we'll win in Vietnam. If we are at war, let us declare war and do all possible to win. Unless we plan victory, we plan surrender, Korea-style.

Last year, President Johnson assured Ho Chi Minh, head commie of North Vietnam, that "we do not seek destruction of any government." Of course, he meant Communist government. He would gleefully destroy the government of Ian Smith in Rhodesia.

We must stay in Vietnam. And we must win, which our top military experts say we could do in five months. If we walk out of Vietnam, then our word is no good. If our word isn't good in Southeast Asia, where is it good?

Bond Election Coverage Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Pease accept my sincere congratulations on the very fine coverage your newpaper afforded to the recent school district elections in Marin County. The Oct. 18 pictorial issue of the San Rafael School District bond proposal was excellent.

You are to be commended for offering this informative service to the public.

Too Little Interest In Library Plan

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Most of our friends say they take the Independent-Journal for the same reason we do — for the local news we cannot get from radio, TV, or other newspapers. We feel that if we live in Marin County, we should be informed on what goes on in Marin.

We read the I-J, but do not feel we are being fully informed about matters that really concern us.

Last Monday night (Nov. 6) at the Corte Madera City Council meeting, a decision was made that affects 25,000 families in Corte Madera, Larkspur, Kentfield, Ross, and Greenbrae. But the I-J must not have considered this of any interst or importance to many people. In fact, there was no local news at all on the front page that night. In what appeared to be a rather desperate attempt to fill space, there was a story about teenagers in Connecticut who dress in an unconventional manner and say they smoke marijuana.

Meanwhile, back at the Corte Madera City Council meeting, the joint-powers plan for merger of libraries was reluctantly rejected, due to lack of public interest or understanding. True, this matter has not been completely ignored by the I-J, for there has been routine reporting of meetings concerning this plan from time to time. However, only 4 per cent of the citizens of Corte Madera let their feelings be known to the council, and there was some evidence that some of these people did not really understand the question. The I-J could have accepted more responsibility here, I believe.

Under the joint-powers plan, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Kentfield, Ross and Greenbrae could have a really first class library. The could have it at little or no additional tax expense! This is a question of 25,000 taxpayers getting a great deal more for their money than they are getting now — in the case of Corte Madera, three times as much.

Too bad more people don't know more about it!

BETH REILLY
Greenbrae

(Editor's note: Corte Madera now has a branch of the county library. Larkspur has its own library, which has a reciprocal agreement with the county library so that books from the latter may be obtained on a Larkspur Library card. Greenbrae also has a branch of the county library. Holders of county library cards in Corte Madera and Greenbrae may also obtain books from the Larkspur Library.)

School Bond Defeat Costs Lamented

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael school bond election defeat was most disturbing and disappointing. John Levinsohn's letter of 10/28 ably discussed those who didn't vote. I would like to comment on those that did vote. The large "no" vote indicates much short-sightedness.

The elementary and two high school issues could be resubmitted separetely or reduced in dollars or deal in immediate needs. But the whole purpose of the total package as presented by the cititzens' committee of which I was a member was to present a complete, reasonable program that would just maintain our schools as they are.

I've always felt privileged to have been raised in this country that my parents immigrated to in 1930. Califrnia schools have been my sole means of education and I'm grateful for the opportunity to have had a good education. My children will be through the SR system before the class size pressure and curtailed program has to take place. But the children still to come will be denied an equal chance to what I, and I believe most of us have had, in adequate schools in a less expanding population.

To take care of overflow, portable classrooms are being used and more will have to be added. This money comes from operating tax funds and so will come directly out of instructional materials and day-to-day needs. This will affect the quality of education.

The School Board is denied the right to decent and orderly planning for the next five to seven years.

Without adequate schools it becomes more difficult to persuade outside business to invest or locate here which would help spread the tax load. A citizen's pride in his community can be measured by his schools, churches, public buildings.

Let's be critical, when necessary, of how the school board spends our money, but why are we afraid to invest in the education of our children?

Unknown Samaritan Thanked For Role

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I express my gratitude, through your paper, to the unknown good samaritan who saved my dog. He is a 14-year-old arthritic boxer who was being attacked by two young German shepherds in a fight over a female in the Shoreline-Almonte area. This brutal attack was witnessed by a compassionate person who called the Humane Society to the rescue.

My heartfelt thanks to the humanitarian and the Humane Society for preventing serious damage to my defenseless friend.

LBJ's Popularity Due To Drop Still Further If War Stalemated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

Late last winter, a group of President Johnson's chief advisers was discussing public opinion polls with a Washington correspondent, expressing a somewhat hopeful opinion that the chief executive's slide in the ratings was about at bottom.

The journalist disagreed, saying, "If he conducts the presidency according to the dictates of necessity and what he truly thinks is best for the country, he'll drop below a rating of 30 by next Christmas."

One of the Johnson staff protested in amazement.

"Why, that would be beyond Truman's lowest point," he said. "Surely his standing with the public won't drop that much."

THEN CAME the Louis Harris poll this week showing that public confidence in Johnson's handling of the Vietnam war was down to 23 per cent.

With no thought of passing judgment on the reliability of such sampling, the major polls have to be accepted as indicative, to say the least. If public confidence in the President's conduct of the war is anywhere near a low of 23 per cent, logic would indicate that this rating would drop even more.

The reason for this is that Johnson has shown no sign of changing basic strategy in Vietnam without some sign of reciprocity from North Vietnam. Thus, without a dramatic turn in the war, some Americans may translate this into inaction and this in turn might equate with more disapproval of Johnson policies.

IN PRIVATE conversation, the President professes to accept his position in opinion polls as more or less expected since the war is difficult for most people to understand. Furthermore, he reasons that lack of sufficiently broad public understanding is complicated by economic pressures at home, consumer irritation at high prices and the prospect of higher taxes, plus a hangover from summer racial violence.

While the President may outwardly project an image of calmness in the face of sliding public opinion percentages, there has to be some degree of emotional abrasion which may not manifest itself immediately. He would be less than human if his equanimity remained untouched.

There are times when even the powerful chief executive can be trapped into having to listen to criticism with no opportunity for so much as clearing his throat in defense. That is what happened to Johnson last Sunday in Williamsburg, Va., when an Episcopal rector used his pulpit to launch some quite critical shafts at the President who had no choice but to sit silently in his pew and take it.

Another Episcopal rector at Alexandria, Va., in 1941 shortly after Pearl Harbor, poured criticism on President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his house guest who sat beside him in church, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

And a Roman Catholic priest once got himself in hot water with his own bishop by preaching to President Kennedy about everything from civil rights to the Cuban missile crisis.

A member of the Johnson staff remarked after church in Williamsburg: "Whatever happened to the religious sermon? Preachers these days tend to become secretaries of state when they see the President coming down the aisle."

Kennedy said once after hearing a pointedly topical sermon dealing with conduct of government: "For a moment, I thought I was back in the Senate."

Teachers Out To Set Own Minimum Salary

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Something new has been added to the perennial question of teachers' salaries, and from all indications, this something bodes no good for the taxpayer.

Northern California teachers representing some 21 counties adopted a resolution at a recent meeting in Sacramento proposing a state-wide policy whereby the California Teachers Association, of which they are members, would determine annually "the minimum, acceptable salary for fully qualified teachers."

The association maintains a powerful lobby in Sacramento to secure legislation for the benefit of its members. The action of this segment indicates a trend which could lead to a lot of chaos in school financing, already beset by innumerable woes.

THE NORTHERN California group fortified its resolution with plenty of muscle to enforce its demands if the resolution ever becomes CTA policy. The resolution proposes that the CTA will:

Provide teachers with intensive negotiation assistance and expert financial consultant service.

Inform teacher placement services of substandard salary conditions.

Provide intensive placement services for teachers in the concerned districts.

Deny membership in CTA to teachers who sign new placement contacts below the adopted minimum salary standard.

SOME TEACHERS at the meeting said ultimate effect of the resolution would be that CTA, instead of the state Legislature, would set minimum salaries. Governing boards of school districts are required to meet the minimum fixed by the Legislature for teachers' salaries.

The minimum teacher salary as provided by the Legislature is now $5,000 per year. At the last legislative session, a bill was passed calling for a $6,000 minimum. However, this was vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Officials of the CTA claim approximately 95 per cent of the state's 200,000 teachers receive more than $6,000 a year anyhow.

The principle, if established, however, is highly important, in that the resolution would take the task of fixing the minimum out of the hands of the Legislature, and put the responsibility in the hands of the teacher organization itself.

If carried to its full potential, the policy would make the teachers instead of the people dictators of the amount to be spent on education.

DROPOUT TRAINS YOUTHS

A former drifter is now training 60 "underachievers" in the field in which he made good — marine biology.

The man now heads his own business in Florida. He is considered one of the foremost collectors of sea animals and fish, which he supplies to research laboratories all over the U.S.

Only a few years before, as a college dropout, he had been in much the same position as the young people he is presently helping. But, by reading everything he could find on sea animals and by steady practice he became expert in the subject.

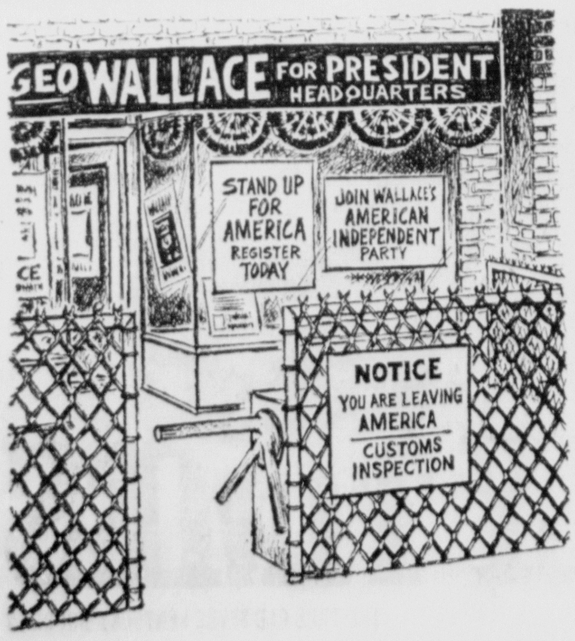

"I am not setting myself up as an example to these kids," he said. "But I hope that they will see that they can learn even if they should decide to drop out of school and that they can make a career for themselves."

On eof the most lasting contributions of one who had made a comeback is to be of practical help to those who want to do something with their lives. The Lord has put us on earth here to serve each other.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

We laugh heartily to see a whole flock of sheep jump because one did so. Might not one imagine that superior beings do the same, and for exactly the same reason? — Fulke Greville.

The safeguards of our liberty are not so much in danger from those who openly oppose them as from thoose who, professing to believe in them, are willing to ignore them when found inconvenient for their purposes; the former we can deal with, but the latter, professing loyalty by precept or example undermine the very first principles of our government and are far the more dangerous. — William E. Borah.

WHEN MRS. ULLMAN'S beloved pooch, Sadie, took sick in the middle of the night, she thought nothing of calling her veterinarian and demanding that he come over at once. "Madam," he declared indignantly, "I do not make house calls at 4 a.m." "Oh, my Sadie isn't in the house," Mrs. Ullman assured him. "She's in her kennel."

DR. WILLIAM A. Spooner was a highly regarded clergyman in Britain at the turn of the century, but his chief claim to fame was his unfortunate habit of twisting words. In fact, slips of that sort are now invariably referred to as "Spoonerisms." Here are a couple of Dr. Spooner's prize boners: 1. "Beg pardon, madam, but I believe you are occupewing the wrong pie." 2. "Why is it, sor, that you are continually hissing my mystery lectures" 3. (Officiating at a wedding): "My boy, at this point it is kisstomary to cuss the bride." And 4, (toasting Queen Victoria on her golden anniversary): "Let us all lift our cups in homage to our Queer Old Dean!"

San Anselmo's political temperature rose markedly with disclosure that Mrs. Carmel Booth, who resigned from the city council with a blast at her colleagues, would again be a council candidate.

20 YEARS AGO

Nov. 16, 1947

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach urged Congress to raise the national minimum wage to 75 cents an hour.

The First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo concluded a two-day celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the church.

Is Seymour Kashin Courting Role Of Pariah As Traitor To His Class?

It looks like Seymour Kashin, the Marin Transit District manager, is a traitor to his class.

Last week before the county board of supervisors, Mr. Kashin ran through a series of studies of whether the Golden Gate Bridge could support a second deck, and whether the second deck could handle rail traffic, and wound up with these words:

"There have been millions of dollars spent of studies since 1951 and the result is that we have a collection of gobble-de-gook."

He told the supervisors, "Frankly, I find it extremely difficult to separate engineering facts from political fancy."

NOW THIS MAY BE just what you and I suspected all along, but imagine a bureaucrat talking like that! And Mr. Kashin has to be a bureaucrat. He has been in charge of various projects and some studies himself, for the federal government and others.

Fellow bureaucrats are likely to take umbrage at Mr. Kashin for being so irreverent about those bridge studies. After all, they are among the thickest and costliest to be found anywhere. Think how many million times motorists crossing the bridge have shelled out their quarters to pay for all those graphs and charts and thousands of words!

Calling that stuff gobble-de-gook could make Mr. Kashin a virtual pariah among the planning experts, consulting engineers and whatnot who live by writing long reports at high prices for agencies of government. He might go to cocktail parties and find that nobody would talk to him except the taxpayers.

Being called a traitor to one's class is a serious thing. You may remember (if you're old enough) that that's what happened to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. And look what it did to him!

Got him re-elected President of the United States three times, that's what it did.

SOME PARENTS in Mill Valley are disturbed about a test that has been given sixth grade pupils in the schools there.

The test is not to find out what the children know. It is to learn their attitudes about their playmates, teachers, parents, etc. Some of the questions on it appear to parents to be invasion of privacy.

Tests of this type pop up in the schools fairly often. Somebody (maybe the school psychologist) feels that they serve a good purpose. But they almost always bring complaints from parents, and their value in the educational process is at least debatable.

We wonder why the schools give them, knowing in advance they are asking for trouble. Or maybe that's why? Maybe the school people like to stir things up a little. Like newspapermen.

SAN RAFAEL'S new street vacuum cleaner is proving quite an attraction and conversation-begetter.

This machine sucks up the dry leaves out of the gutters through a long flexible tube about the size of the smokestack on an ocean liner. While one man sits in the cab, another guides the spout around (looks like hard work, too).

You can hear it coming over a block away, and as it proceeds down the street, people come out on their porches and stick their heads out of windows to see what's going on.

U.C. Professor Discipline Urged

BERKELEY, (AP) — Assemblyman Don Mulford, R - Piedmont, urges University of California regents to take swift action against 22 professors who admitted participation in anti-draft rallies on the Berkeley campus.

"Who is running the university?" Mulford asked in a letter to Theodore R. Meyer, Board of Regents chairman.

"These professors are arrogantly defying the administration. The regents must meet this challenge."

Baha'is Speaker

Rodiray Meyers, an Arizona resident, will speak on the Baha'is at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Saturday at 104 East Manor Drive, Mill Valley.

The first electric street railway in the United States was operated in Baltimore in 1885.

Dr. King Gets Many Assists In Promoting Racial Troubles

None can deny our land is in sore straits, and a lady in her 80s writes me despairingly of what has happened and is happening to America. She concludes with a heartfelt "Oh, for a Teddy Roosevelt!"

She spoke not as a Republican but as an American, and would clearly welcome any candidate who would restore our faith in our ancient virtues, whatever his party.

But — so far, at least — there is no TR on the horizon. And when a nation loses faith in its leader, the voice of the demagogue rings out over the muted peal of the Liberty Bell.

AND THE SHRILLEST voice is that of the honored — and more dangerous because of his "respectability" — Rev. Martin Luther King. Testifying before a senatorial committee shortly after the disgraceful Washington march on the Pentagon, he proclaimed — in more scholarly language, of course — "You ain't seen nothin' yet!" He warned that, unless the legislators enacted the laws that he sought, he and 100,000 followers would tie up the city in a gigantic sit-in that would permit neither the Congress nor the capitol to function.

In England, a similar black racist was just given a jail term for uttering like threats, but then this English copy of Malcolm X did not boast a Nobel Prize. Speaking of which, I recall Harry Truman's dry comment when the reverend received that coveted award: "Well, I didn't give it to him."

BUT DR. KING hasn't made his end runs without noble assistance from the liberal commentators of the communication media, both white and black, who ran interference for him. And if we don't soon have a race riot to end all race riots, no one can fault these worthies.

Take their comments, both before and after, on the recent bye-elections. In any contest where a Negro ran against a Caucasian, they strongly intimated — in the press and on TV —that it was the duty of the colored voter to support the Negro. But, on the other hand, if whites voted for the white man, it would be because of a racist backlash.

Now that is surely racism in reverse. For it is possible that, in some instances, the Caucasian was eminently qualified for the post he sought. I grant it is unlikely, but whites have made enormous progress in recent years, and some very decent folk may have voted for the Caucasian in that perhaps mistaken belief.

CERTAINLY THERE WAS no Jim Crowism when the voters of Massachusetts elected a colored senator. Would it have been bigotry had he run against Teddy Kennedy and been defeated?

But if many whites voted for Carl Stokes for mayor of Cleveland over a scion of the Taft family, those who did not — I quote from a liberal newspaper — showed that "large numbers of white Democrats had deserted their party to vote against the Negro." By that same token, a large number of Republicans deserted Goldwater in 1964 — was that because of anti-Semitism?

The omnipresent Dr. King's comment on the Cleveland election was that it was fine, but long overdue. Unless similar victories came soon, he warned, we would not only get bigger and better summer riots, but we'd get them in winter, too. Happily, he hasn't staked out autumn and spring.

LET ME SAY at once that Mr. Stokes made many of us cheer when he said of his victory, "God bless America!" There was nothing of the racist braggadocio in him, but simple gratefulness for the realization of his share of the American Dream. I am certain we all wish him well, and don't be surprised if the country isn't proud of him before he's through.

For be it noted that while Dr. King worked hard to get out the colored vote for him, the new mayor was careful not to be seen with the reverend on the hustings.

And, if further proof of his political perspicacity is wanted, Mr. Stokes flatly turned down Hubert Humphrey's offer to campaign for him.

I suspect he may have endeared himself to the electorate because of the company he didn't keep. Good luck, mayor!

Exams Are Scheduled At Maritime Academy

Five examinations have been scheduled for prospective cadets at the California Maritime Academy, Vallejo.

The top scorer on the examinations will be nominated to the academy by State Sen. John F. McCarthy, if the candidate meets physical and other entrance requirements.

Examinations are set for Jan. 6, Feb. 3, March 2, April 6 and May 4 at the academy. Those who make passing scores on the examination will be admitted to the academy as vacancies occur.

Applicants at the time of admission in August of next year must be high school graduates, unmarried, between 16 and 22 years of age.

Applicants may apply to the office of Senator McCarthy, Room 5050 State Capitol, Sacramento, or at 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael, or may gain information from the academy.

The state-operated academy degree in nautical science or provides a three-year course leading to a bachelor of science marine engineering. Graduates also are eligible to become merchant marine officers or may be commissioned in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

No Talks, Just Singing, Dancing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A trick will be played Dec. 7 on Republican party leaders including seven Los Angeles area congressmen.

They won't be permitted to make a speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner at the Palladium.

The program will include songs by Pat Boone and Howard Keel and dancing — but no speeches — a spokesman says.

Hamilton Youngsters Learn Bike Safety

Two hundred children from Hamilton Air Force Base have completed a bicycle safety course at Meadow Park School, Novato Unified School District, sponsored by Explorer Scouts of the base.

The course included a mechanical check of bikes, a safety lecture and riding test through an obstacle course. Aiding in operating the safety check were base security police and California highway patrolmen.
